THREATS FOR DEATH OF PERRY

Union Trust Company Magnate Places Guards About His Providence Home.

FROM BANK DEPOSITORS?

Special to the Boston American.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 8.—Threats against the life of Marsden J. Perry, of the Union Trust Company, which suspended two weeks ago, have caused him to place guards about his house and to not venture out at night.

Among the 25,000 depositors of this big financial institution were a large number of Italians. It is said [illegible]

[illegible] Perry declaring that if the trust company does not pay the depositors in full his life will pay the forfeit.

Some of these letters, it is believed, were written by Italians. The officialss of the company are trying to keep the matter quiet, but the information leaked out through one of the large depositors.

Perry is the first vice president of the institution and was formerly president. When the company closed it doors some of the depositors were inclined to place the blame on Perry, who, it was said, lost heavily as a result of the run on the Trust Company of America of New York.

SENSATIONS PROMISED IN LOWELL PROBE

Special to the Boston American.

LOWELL, Nov. 8.—Sensations are expected when the hearing of the charges against Police Commissioners Jennings and McAvoy is resumed at 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning. Superintendent William B. Moffatt of the police department startled the investigators and those attending the hearing yesterday by declaring that changes were made in the squad which had been enforcing the liquor law without his approval.

"I had confidence in the old squad, but not in the new," he said.

The new squad was chosen by the Police Commissioners against whom the charges have been made.

Bartholomew Kane and Henry Somers, the present liquor inspectors, were appointed on August 6, 1906, succeeding Messrs. Atkinson and Duncan.

COULTHURST ASKS MAYOR TO WITHDRAW

WOULD GLADLY ACCEPT DEMOCRATIC AS WELL AS LEAGUE NOMINATION.

John A. Coulthurst, who has announced himself as a candidate for nomination on the Independence League ticket for Mayor, to-day replied to Mayor Fitzgerald's announcement that he would accept the League's nomination by asking the Mayor to withdraw from the field and allow him to have the Democratic as well as the League nomination.

Mr. Coulthurst declared that the Mayor evidently appreciates the fact that he has been repudiated by the Boston Democracy.

This is Mr. Coulthurst's statement.

"Mayor Fitzgerald evidently sees the handwriting on the wall, and that the Boston Democracy has repudiated him. I make a counter proposition to him in the light of recent events, namely, that he withdraw in my favor. I shall be delighted to accept the Democratic nomination as well as that of the Independence League."

Mayor Fitzgerald's proposition is as follows:

"I would accept the Independence League nomination for Mayor of Boston if it were offered to me. Much might be accomplished by the fusion of the Democratic party with the Independence League party in this city, and since the principles espoused by both parties are almost identical, it might be wise to combine against the common enemy, the Republican party."

IN SUICIDE PACT, IS JAILED AS SLAYER

LIBERTY, Mo., Nov. 8.—Jesse B. Webb, charged with the murder of his supposed bride, was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to serve eight years in the penitentiary. The jury considered the suicide pact between Inez Walkup and Webb sufficient ground for conviction. The latter testifie that the girl shot him and then killed herself.

THOUGHT TO BE POOR, RECLUSE LEFT $10,000

No Known Relatives to Claim Fortune of John O'Brien; Only Two at Funeral.

John O'Brien, buried o-day in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Newton, supposedly poor and friendless, left $10,000, represented by deposits in banks in Watertown and Newton. The discovery was made when the Newton authorities took posession of his effects in his home on Tyler street, where he lived alone.

So far as has been discovered, the dead man left no will nor any verbal indication of what should be done with his money. A few days before his death he went insane.

Mr. O'Brien came to Newton a number of years ago and worked for a time in the Waltham bleachery. His fortune is supposed to have been the result of years of savings. His wants were few and not even his nearest neighbors felt that they could be callers upon the old man who discouraged advances in that direction.

It is not known that he left a relative in the world. At the funeral services today there were only two persons present, one, Rev. Father John S. Cullen, who sang the requiem mass, and the other, the undertaker.

The bankbooks are in the possession of the Newton authorities, who are awaiting claimants. It is thought that Mr. O'Brien may have left relatives in Ireland who will claim the money when they receive word of his death.

PANIC IN ALMSHOUSE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—One hundred and fifty inmates of the Kane county almshouse near Batavia, most of them insane, were driven in panic from the main building of the institution last night by fire. Many of the insane patients escaped but subsequently were retaken.

MYSTERY IN POISON; DOUBT "KNOCKOUT" DROPS KILLED BAKER

Brother Hints at Other Than Chloral Hydrate as Agency in Causing Young Man's Death—Analysis Retarded by Embalming Fluid. Work Is Being Done with Great Care, Says Dr. Pfaff.

"We are making a very careful analysis of the contents of the stomach and other organs of the deceased Walter F. Baker, and it is taking a good deal of time. We appreciate the great importance of the case, and we propose to be absolutely certain of every detail of our report."

This statement was made to-day by Medical Examiner Magrath, who is working on the analysis in connection with a prominent Back Bay physiological chemist. Dr. Magrath declined to give the name of the chemist. He added that the report that the Harvard Medical School was making an analysis is incorrect.

The work of the chemist is being retarded by the fact that an unusually large amount of embalming fluid was injected into the body of the young clubman and Harvard athlete. This was done at Bogota, N. J., where Baker died after a trip to New York.

WHERE IS BAKER'S AUTO?

Some of the friends of Baker believe that hydrate of chloral, or "knockout drops," were administered to Baker. The dead man's brother, Edward, of this city, does not believe in this theory, however.

"If he had been the victim of knockout drops," said Mr. Baker, to-day, "he would have been robbed. He had a pin, watch and money with him. Nothing was disturbed.

"It is said that my brother and the Hurds went to New York the night he died on the train, because my brother's automobile was being repaired. I have not heard where that automobile is and I should like to know."

CHAUFFEUR TELLS STORY.

Louis Sniffen, the chauffeur who drove Baker to Bogota on the night of his death, was seen in New York to-day. He made the following statement:

"On the night Baker was taken sick an order was received at the garage for a machine. I was sent to take the party to Bogota. A full account of the trip to Browne's Chop House, the Nottingham Hotel and back to the chop house has been published.

"On our last trip to the chop house Mr. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurd and Mrs. Young were in the car. Mr. Hurd and Mr. Lee got out of the machine to go in to get Mr. Baker. A crowd gathered on the sidewalk, and the two women were annoyed at the attention they were attracting, so I drove the machine across the street and up the block in front of the Metropolitan Opera House to await the appearance of the men who had gone into Browne's for Baker.

"When Baker was brought out of the chop house he appeared to me to be a very sick man. Mr. Hurd walked at his side and seemed to be supporting him. At first I thought Baker had been drinking too heavily, but on closer observation I became convinced that he was sober.

"AFRAID I'M DYING."

"Just before stepping into the auto Baker turned to Mr. Hurd and said feebly: 'Hurry me home; I'm afraid I am dying.' He was then helped into the machine and we started for the Forty-second street ferry.

"One of the women sat beside me to tell me which way to go. I don't know who the woman was; she wore a heavy black veil. Mr. Baker sat on the right side of the machine in the rear seat and Mr. Hurd and the other women sat beside him.

"We made such a quick trip that I could only faintly hear the voices of those behind me. It seems to me that they said very little during the journey. I looked back once and saw Baker lying in one corner of the car. His face was deathly white and he seemed to be almost unconscious.

"It is not any of my business what goes on behind me and I make it a rule not to be too curious about the affairs of my employers, so I guess that is why I can tell so little of what happened. When we got to Bogota I was directed to the Hurd home and there stopped in front of the gate.

LIFTED FROM TONNEAU.

"The woman beside me sprang lightly sitting next to Baker got out. Then I saw that Baker was not able to help himself from the machine. He had to be lifted out of the car and the man and woman out and carried through the gates. That is all I saw."

"Did Mr. Hurd give you a tip of $10?" he was asked.

"Yes, he did, and I thought him a very generous man," answered Sniffin.

"Did he say anything to you after giving you the money?"

"Not that I remember."

Mr. Baker said he had instructed detectives to inquire among the waiters of three Broadway hotels to learn if his brother had dined in one of these hostelries in company with friends on the evening before his death.

District Attorney Koester of Bergen County said to-day:

"When I receive the official report of the analysis of Mr. Baker's stomach I shall act accordingly. If poison is found in such quantities as to warrant the belief that murder was committed, I shall order the arrest of all those against whom there is adequate proof of guilt.

"It is necessary for me to have a coroner's inquest so I can continue my investigations at this end. For instance, certain persons refuse to see me or make any statement. I want to subpoena them to appear before the coroner and have them answer some questions.

"I am investigating along new lines.

"There are a number of irregularities about this case which will have to be explained away. Baker's body was embalmed in a hurried manner without a certificate from the Coroner, although I am informed that Dr. MacFadden informed the undertaker that he must not go ahead until after the Coroner was notified."

ON TRIAL, LEAPS FROM IRON CAGE AND ESCAPES

Henry Ireland Astounds Walpole Court by Daring Vault That Brings Him Freedom.

WALPOLE, Nov. 8.—Leaping from the prisoner's cage in the district court room here early to-day, where he was on trial charged with having attempted to kill his wife, Sarah, last Saturday at Foxboro, Henry Ireland fled down the streets of the town pursued by the judge, two chiefs of police, court officers and about a half hundred of spectators. The man reached the woods in safety and has not been recaptured.

Ireland, who last Saturday at his home in Foxboro had flourished a pistol, so his wife charges, and threatened to kill her, had been placed under arrest and brought here.

This morning he was brought into court for arraignment. He was placed in the large prisoners' cage in the court room, and while Judge Doe and the attorneys were busied with the preliminaries in the case the man climbed to the top of the cage and leaped from it into the room.

Surprise and consternation sat on every face in the court room for the instant. The man glared around at the judge and court officers and then dashed past them all to an open window. Through this he vaulted, the whole court room in an uproar.

Down Stone street the accused man dashed as fast as he could run, and out of the court house sped Chief of Police White of Foxboro and Chief Patton of this town. The officers were followed by lawyers, spectators and the Judge himself ran out of the court room to witness the pursuit.

Ireland fled like the wind, distancing his pursuers, who had raise dthe hue and cry. The man disappeared into the woods, and now a posse of men are engaged in searching the forest to find him.

STOCKS UP DESPITE HIGH DISCOUNT RATE

Market Strong Regardless of Europe's Fight to Retain Gold.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Imperial Bank of Germany advanced its minimum discount rate 1 per cent. to 7½ per cent., and the National Bank of Belgium put up its rate ½ per cent. to 6 per cent. All the banks of Europe are taking extreme precautions to stop the drain of gold to New York.

In spite of these advances in the bank rates the stock market in New York was remarkably strong, considering the conditions locally. Very few stocks declined and the break in Amalgamated was so small as to be unimportant in view of its precarious condition.

The London market was highly irregular, especially for Americans. Trading in stocks in all parts of the world has been reduced to a minimum, and there is a world-wide movement to put the business on a strictly cash basis.

The stock market showed more advances than declines at the opening, and after the first few trades prices generally showed an improved tendency.

General Electric started down 1 and Southern Railway and Copper were ⅛ lower, Sugar lost ⅝ and rallied ½. Consolidated Gas started off up 2 points, New York Central ¾, Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific ½, Canadian Pacific 1⅛, and Pennsylvania and National Lead ⅝ higher, Smelting opened ¼ higher and gained in all ⅝, and Reading gained ¼.

At end of ten minutes trading the general tone of market was firm.

KEITH FORCES WIN; WAR ENDS IN VAUDEVILLE

Klaw & Erlanger Agree to Quit the Field and Return to "Legitimate."

TREMONT TO DROP VARIETY

Word comes from New York that Klaw & Erlanger and the other sponsors for "Advanced Vaudeville" have come to an agreement with the Keith-Proctor-Williams forces, whereby they will retire from the field of vaudeville and leave it free and clear to the United Booking Offices, of which Keith, Proctor and Williams are the head.

This absorption of their rivals by the Keith forces will have the effect of taking the Tremont Theatre out of the field as a variety house and transferring it to its legitimate uses as a first-class house for traveling companies.

"Advanced Vaudeville" has been in active service in Boston since September 1, but for two months the Tremont struggled to overcome a handicap of poorly arranged bills sent them from New York, and a disappointing patronage caused by the lack of interest in these poor bills.

Drew Crowded Houses.

A week ago, however, when the "Steam Roller" got into active operation and the vaudeville bills provided for the Tremont were composed of headline acts and artists of international reputation, the attendance increased by leaps and bounds until the house was crowded at every performance.

The probability of a change in the situation at the Tremont, whereby it will go back to its legitimate field, is interesting because of the fact that Boston, at the present time, is decidedly short of available theatres for traveling companies—Mrs. Patrick Campbell, for instance, being unable to get a date here for that reason and she will be obliged to play in Symphony Hall this month.

The change, however, leaves the vaudeville situation exactly as it was before September 1, with the Keith and Orpheum theatres occupying the field. It is an open secret that the Keith and Orpheum houses are very closely connected, the bookings for both houses being done by the same parties, but the character of the bills is different, and the two houses do not conflict.

Abandon "Legitimate" Field.

But the coalition between Keith-Proctor-Williams and the Klaw & Erlanger forces will result in one thing of interest to Boston, and that is the abandonment on the part of the former of their plan to invade the "legitimate" field, at least in Boston, in connection with which it was intimated a week ago that the Orpheum might again be used as a legitimate theatre next season.

B. F. Keith is at present in New York and no one at the Boston offices has any authority or inclination to discuss the subject of probable change in the situation.

Under the agreement between the majority of the artists performing in "advanced vaudeville," their contracts will not expire for twenty-six weeks from September 1st of this year. This leaves Klaw & Erlanger with a lot of expensive talent on their hands, so that it is extremely probable that "advanced vaudeville" will continue here until these contracts have expired, unless the artists are transferred to the other circuit.

MAD DOG BITES EIGHT SOLDIERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Eight soldiers from Fort Hamilton are in the hospital as the result of bites inflicted by a mad dog early to-day. Several of the victims are in serious condition.

Coporal Brookhorse of the Eighty-fourth Company was bitten through the nose by the savage beast. Private Sinclair of the Ninety-eighth Company was seriously torn about the breast and Private O'Brien of the One Hundred and Twenty-third Company was bitten on the hand. Five other men were slightly bitten.

MAYOR OPENS WAR ON FINANCE COMMISSION

SENATOR ATTACKS MEMBERS' RECORDS AND BREAKS UP SESSION IN DISORDER.

Senator Frank J. Linehan's sensational attack upon the Boston Finance Commission at last night's hearing on Linehan's contract for building the now famous Deer Island wall, marked the first step, it was asserted at City Hall to-day, in a bitter campaign which Mayor Fitzgerald will wage against the commission.

Following closely, as it did, upon the statement made by Mayor Fitzgerald yesterday that he had dug up much information concerning the mayoralty administration of Chairman Matthews of the Finance Commission, and would also have much to make public concerning the records of other members of the commission, Linehan's attack is regarded as significant.

From the nature of Linehan's statements concerning Mayor Matthews's administration it was evident that the information had been furnished to him by those in authority at City Hall. Former Alderman Fred J. Kneeland, who was recently appointed by Mayor Fitzgerald to a newly-created job in the public buildings department, was one of those who participated in the disgraceful scenes attending last night's hearing.

Linehan Attacks Matthews.

Linehan made a sensational attack upon Chairman Matthews and Attorney Sughrue of the commission, urged on by a crowd of his enthusiastic admirers, who filled the school committee room on Mason street, where the hearing was held.

"It was a disgraceful scene, and evidently a concerted attempt to embarass the commission," said one of the members to-day.

Chairman Matthews objected to Senator Linehan's making a statement at that time on the investigation of the Atlas Construction Company, of which Senator Linehan is the leading member, and which was under consideration. Linehan, who was accompanied by his counsel, John P. Feeney, insisted on his right to be heard.

The commission voted against him.

"I will be heard," repeated Linehan.

"Officer," said Matthews, to a policeman, "remove this man."

"I will have my say in spite of ten officers," shouted Linehan, shaking his finger defiantly at the chairman.

Keeps on Talking.

As the policeman approached, with apparent reluctance, Linehan kept on talking. The commission then voted to adjourn until this evening, when the investigation will be resumed.

But Linehan was not disconcerted, and in a loud voice he rapidly fired the following questions at the members of commission, each question being punctuated by shouts of approval from a large party of sympathizers:

"I want to ask the Finence Commission to investigate the $2,966.67 paid by the county for the rent of the law office of Michael J. Sughrue, Assistant District Attorney, obtained by fraud.

"I ask the commission to investigate the fee paid Nathan Matthews, $25,157.55, for three weeks' work on certain matters connected with the water department.

"I ask the commission to investigate why Nathan Matthews paid his father three times the value of the land where the fire headquarters was constructed on Bristol street.

"I ask the commission to investigate the sum of $4,000 paid to Nathan Matthews for his work as a member of the Commission on the Height of Buildings, the price paid amounting to $676 an hour.

"I ask the commission to investigate the amount of money paid by the city to Waldo Brothers for cement.

"I ask the commission to investigate how much Nathan Matthews got from Addicks for selling his services to the gas company in 1893, when he was Mayor.

"I ask the commission to investigate why Matthews had a deal with Addicks in his behalf, whereby he (Matthews) was to be elected president of the gas company.

"How much did the dock trust pay to M. J. Sughrue when he was district attorney?"

Hisses and jeers at the members of the commission from those present who sympathized with Linehan, added to the excitement of the occasion as the gathering slowly dispersed.

In the formal statement to the commission by Attorney Michael J. Sughrue, among others, made the following charge:

Charges Made by Sughrue.

"The case I am to present to-night relates to an improvident contract made after a pretended but unreal competition, for the erection of a boundary wall at Deer Island, between the land belonging to the city and property recently acquired by the United States Government.

"In the agreement for the sale of land at Deer Island to the United States Government, the city undertook to build a boundary wall, and the United States Government withheld $50,000 of the purchase price as security for the proper carrying out of the city's agreement.

"The evidence will show that in awarding this contract practically no regard was had to the city's interests.

"There was no advertising. Bids were originally invited from a very few of the many contractors doing this class of work in Boston. Many of the large and responsible contractors were wholly ignored and had no opportunity whatever to bid. The original form of contract seems fairly to have protected the city's interests, but it never was signed; a new and disadvantageous form of contract was substituted and the contract awarded to the ostensibly lowest bidder without any notice to or any opportunity for anybody else to bid.

"The favored bidder was the Atlas Construction Company. This name would seem to indicate the existence of a corporation under the laws of some State; but, in fact, it is a copartnership masquerading under a corporate name and consists of two persons, one of them a former member of the Board of Aldermen and at present a member of the State Senate from this city."

BOY IN COURT FACING CHARGE OF FORGERY

The youngest prisoner ever charged with forgery in this State is fifteen-year-old George K. Faulkner of No. 21 Brooks street, East Boston, who comes into the juvenile session of Boston Municipal Court to-day. With his boyish clothes and clean-cut look the lad presents an unusual aspect for one charged with a State Prison offence.

He is accused of forging the endorsement of his employer, Everett F. Damon, real estate dealer at No. 50 Congress street, to a $55 check on October 7. On that day a tenant for one of Damon's estates paid a $55 check for rent. It is charged that Faulkner, who was alone in the office at the time, signed Damon's name on the back of the check, cashed it with the Old Colony Trust Company, and promptly skipped his job.

Inspectors Harris and Robinson of the bank squad, who have been looking for Faulkner, arrested him yesterday at home.

SCHOOL BOARD RE-ORGANIZES TEACHING PLAN

The School Committee took important action at its meeting yesterday in regard to the appointment of teachers. It restored the position of first assistant in girls' grammar schools and adopted a schedule which shows to what positions holders of qualification certificates are eligible.

Each elementary school district is under the charge of one master. He is to be assisted in boys' schools and mixed schools by one or more sub-masters and a masters' assistant. No sub-masters are to be appointed to girls' schools, but a master's assistant is to be employed in them. The former position of first assistant in girls' grammar schools has been re-established.

The schedule relating to eligibility to position according to grade certificates was adopted upon the recommendation of the superintendent of schools.

Ballot Returns Now Prove League SECOND PARTY IN MASSACHUSETTS

"In the original and in each succeeding appointment and in the filling of vacancies registars of voters shall be so appointed that the members of the board shall, as equally as may be, represent the two leading political parties at the preceding State election, and in no case shall an appointment be so made as to cause a board to consist of more than two members, who, including the city or town clerk are of the same political party."

Laws of Massachusetts (Acts of 1907), Section 27, Chapter 560.

Complete returns of the Whitney vote received by the BOSTON AMERICAN from twenty-seven cities and towns sustain the statement made by this newspaper on Wednesday that the Independence League is now one of the "two leading political parties" in Massachusetts, and hence is entitled to representation on bi-partisan boards.

The vote for the head of the Independence League ticket, according to the press returns, was not less than 75,026.

The vote for the head of the Democratic ticket will be some thousands under this, probably about 72,000.

Mr. Whitney's total vote, as Democrat, Independent Citizens and Democratic Citizens, was 84,192. This includes other votes, wherein the voter wrote the name "Henry M. Whitney" on his ballot without any designation.

The total vote for Whitney, Democrat—that is to say, the Democratic vote—was much below the vote for Thomas L. Hisgen of the Independence eLague.

This fact has already impressed itself upon the Democratic "leaders," who, rebuked on Tuesday, are up in the air.

They find some solace, however, in the fact that the Republican vote dropped 30,000 from the vote of last year.

Here are complete and correct returns on the Whitney vote from twenty-seven cities and towns:

The statutes concerning the Excise Board in Boston, the Board of Election Commissions in Boston, commissions like the Fall River Police Commission, the Ballot Law Commission and the Civil Service Commission, provide that:

"The Governor, with the advice and consent of the Council, shall appoint from the TWO PRINCIPAL POLITICAL PARTIES * * *"

Equally interesting is the law affecting election officers all over the State:

"Such election officers shall be so appointed as equally to represent the TWO LEADING POLITICAL PARTIES, except that, without disturbing the equal representation of such parties, not more than two of such election officers not representing either of them may be appointed."

The official returns not only indicate the utter routing of the Democratic organization in the State, but they further indicate that Mr. Whiney got a considerable Republican vote and that many Democrats went to Guild.

APPEAL FOR AID TO IRISH CAUSE

The committee of the United Irish League in charge of raising the $10,000 pledged for the support of John E. Redmond and his associates in the Irish parliamentary struggle, held a meeting at the American House last night.

A committee was appointed to prepare a formal address appealing to the loyal Irish of Massachusetts to aid in the work.

In moving the appointment of the committee, T. B. Fitzpatrick spoke of the necessity for quick action.

"There is no doubt as to the issue at hand," said Mr. Fitzpatrick. "The question is whether or not Ireland shall have home rule. Our great leader and his colleagues are giving all they have to the cause, and the loyal support of the Irish people in America is absolutely necessary if we hope to win out."

The following are on the committee: T. B. Fitzpatrick, Dr. T. J. Dillon, J. Jordan, P. J. Timmins and John O'Callaghan.

TELEGRAPHERS GO BACK TODAY

The strike of telegraphers is ended in Boston after a battle of nearly thirteen weeks. Late yesterday afternoon Boston Local No. 4 of Comemrcial Telegraphers voted to suspend the strike and the 300 men and girls who were still out signed a joint application for employment in the offices of the Postal Telegraph and Western Union. Many of the operators were back at their keys last night and more went to work this morning.

As fast as places can be provided for them, the others will go back to the companies, operators from branch offices, who have been filling their places during the trouble, being sent back to their former positions.

The strikers claim a moral victory and now await the concessions which they believe are forthcoming from the two companies.

HEINZ SON MAY WED AGAIN

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 8.—Clifford S. Heinz, son of the millionaire pickler, late last night telephoned his father from New York, where he is with his bride, who was Miss Virginia Campbell, a nurse. Heinz advised his son to go before a minister of a recognized church and have the marriage ceremony performed over again; also to take a long wedding trip, then to return home for his blessing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—At the home of Mrs. John L. Given, No. 929 West End avenue, young Heinz's sister, it was said, last night, that Clifford S. Heinz and Miss Virginia Campbell were married recently in New London, Ct. The couple were here for several days and left last night on an extended honeymoon.

"Miss Campbell was a thoroughly estimable young woman and we were all very fond of her," said a member of the Given family.

GIRL IN COMA TWENTY DAYS

Miss Mary Anthony, who has lain in a state of coma for twenty days, is puzzling the City Hospital physicians. Miss Anthony, who comes from Taunton, was knocked unconscious by an automobile October 18 on the Dartmouth street bridge.

Day after day, as she has lain at the hospital, there has been no change in her condition. Her remarkable vitality has seemed inexhaustible. The physicians are keeping close watch of her case, for they consider it not only necessary to be at hand if any new developments show, but the watch for change is, in their view, likely to lead to discoveries of scientific value.

FLOODS IN FRANCE.

After three days' rain, floods and inundations are again widespread in the south of France, railroads tracks have been swept away, houses have collapsed and several persons have been drowned.

ASK HOTELS TO AID SALESMEN

The Municipal Publicity Bureau has asked Boston hotelkeepers that cater to commercial travelers to see that this class of patrons have sufficient and proper room for the display of samples. The bureau says:

"A majority of Boston hotels have already pursued a liberal policy in this respect, but there are a few in which visiting salesmen do not find all the conveniences they are accustomed to receive in other cities. A number of hotel managers have already written the publicity bruean expressing their willingness to carry out the suggestions."

HUNT MISSING ROXBURY BOY

Anxious, because of the absence of his son, Charles P. O'Brien, seventeen years old, who wandered away from his home, No. 28 Laurel street, Roxbury, three weeks ago, Charles J. O'Brien to-day said he feared his son had come to some harm.

Young O'Brien, who looks several years older than his age, has been subject to fits of mental aberration for some time, and previous to his disappearance his parents were arranging to have him taken to the asylum at Waverley. The lad got away, however, and not a word has been heard of him since.

HISGEN'S GREAT VOTE AMAZES NEW ENGLAND

EDITORIAL COMMENT DECLARES LEAGUE POINTS WARNING TO POLITICIANS.

The wonderful showing made by Thomas L. Hisgen, Independence League candidate for Governor, is causing editorial comment all over New England.

The AMERICAN to-day reprints several of these editorials as follows:

Protest for Decency.

Boston Advertiser.

Wholly outside of the refusal of organized labor to vote for Whitney, the Hisgen vote (especially around Boston) was a protest in the name of decency in politics.

What Hisgen Carried.

Boston Herald.

"Out of the twenty principal cities in this Commonwealth, only a mere handful of the large manufacturing centres showed in their voting that Whitney was able to poll a majority of the Democratic vote. In the remaining cities the Democratic portion of the working men's vote fell into the boxes for Hisgen in such strength as to give the Independence League candidate a majority in each case over both Whitney and Bartlett. And thirteen other cities, ranging from Springfield to Quincy, and including the Boston suburbs of Chelsea, Everett, Malden and Medford, gave a clear majority of their Democratic votes to Hisgen."

League Established as Party.

Boston Journal.

The Democratic party in this State to-day is disrupted, and it is disrupted mainly because its so-called leaders have taken it for granted that a second-hand national issue and a capacious barrel will take the place of vital State issues. * * * The Independence League is established as a party with votes.

It Was the Issue, Not the Man.

Boston Transcript.

"Who is this man Thomas L. Hisgen, who has ridden into fame on the Independence League vehicle, with a platform of anti-merger, reciprocal demurrage law and anti-discrimination? Men saw his name a year ago on the Democratic ticket as a candidate for auditor, but it meant little to them and they quickly forgot it. It was something more than the personality of the man which brought him such a handsome vote last Tuesday; it was the issue involved, and which goes very near to the heart of every laboring man."

Hisgen Vote Phenomenal.

Marshfield Outlook.

The most surprising thing about the election was the enormous vote cast for Hisgen, the Independence League candidate, 75,000, almost equalling that cast for Whitney, the Democratic candidate. When it is taken into account that Mr. Hisgen had no political campaign committee, with unlimited funds to help him, had but few political meetings and no bands nor banners, was supported by but one paper in the entire State, and that reports of his meetings were tabooed by nearly the entire press, his vote was phenomenal, and shows that the voters are all ready to break away from the boss-ruled and time-serving parties and vote for their own interests and the best interests of the people.

Rebuke to Corruption.

Springfield Union.

Radicalism is rampant in the land. The vote for Hisgen, almost equal to that of Whitney, a vote secured without the expenditure of practically a dollar, was to some extent a tribute to a good fellow, but mainly an indication of the trend of the times. The discovery of corruption in high places has aroused some people to action and they have been guided by the Hearst newspapers to seek relief in the Independence League.

League May Feel Proud.

Worcester Gazette.

The one party and the candidate entitled to feel proud of the result of the election yesterday is the Independence League and Thomas L. Hisgen, its standard bearer. The League is now a force that must be reckoned with in State politics, and unless the Democracy can gather it into its fold there will soon be no Democratic party of consequential strength in Massachusetts.

Politicians Dismayed.

Lowell Courier-Citizen.

Predictions as to the strength of the Independence League were fulfilled. Party leaders were somewhat dismayed by returns indicating the strength of the leaders. It was small comfort for the professionals to go over the figures and think of the possible future of the Independence League and its effects on other parties.

Republicans in Minority.

Springfield Republican.

The surprise of the day is the smallness of the Whitney or regular Democratic vote and the magnitude of that given to Mr. Hisgen, candidate of the Independence League. It is a proud plurality received by Governor Guild, but behind it stands the fact that the Republican party in Massachusetts represents only a minority of the electorate.

Vote a Sharp Warning.

Fitchburg Sentinel.

The phenomenally large vote for Hisgen gives sharp warning to all the conservative powers that be that there is unrest in the land which is anxious to find some legitimate object of its wrath. Taken in connection with the equally phenomenal vote for Moran last year, it gives a lesson which weatherwise political prophets will heed with all due diligence.

Hisgen Vote Surprise.

Portsmouth, N. H., Times.

One of the surprises in Massachusetts is the great vote cast for Hisgen, who ran as a candidate for Governor as the Independence League candidate.

$8.00 Hats at $1.95 $5.00 Hats at $1.45 $3.50 Hats at 95c

Imported for the Fashionable Fifth Avenue Milliners of New York

To Milliners

Milliners can double their regular profits by selecting untrimmed hats from this sale. Many will recognize the trade mark of the importer and the French makers. Positively not a hat in the entire collection worth less than $3.50—some are regular $8 values.

New York's largest importer of fine untrimmed French shapes closed out his great stock of flats, hoods, etc., to Henry Siegel Co. just before sailing for Europe to buy his stocks for next Spring.

These are the kind of Hats that Boston women most prefer. Beautiful soft French felts in smooth or napped finish, large flats with balloon crowns, large flats with straight crowns and with brim turned under as a welt.

Soft hoods that can be bent into becoming shapes, walking hat effects of plain felt with silk velvet unders, large taffeta silk flats with balloon crowns and velvet facings, some two-tone, such as black hats with white, light blue and rose facings, others all white with colored facings such as green, purple, light blue, black, taupe, etc., but the greater part are plain solid colors, black, navy, brown, new blues, light blues, pink, purple, leather, taupe, white, etc.

MISS FARRAR'S FATHER DENIES ENGAGEMENT

Says He Would Be First to Know if Daughter Was to Wed Signor Scotti.

FAIR SINGER ON OCEANIC

Closely following the statement "that all Americans were barbarians, politically corrupt and with no understanding of art," alleged to have been made by Miss Geraldine Farrar, the Melrose prima donna, comes the announcement that she is to become the wife of Signor Scotti, a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and the American theatregoers are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the good ship Oceanic, when they may learn the truth from the fair Boston favorite herself.

Miss Farrar sailed from Southampton on Wednesday in company with Signors Scotti and Caruso, and it was not long before the rumored engagement was announced, but the songsters refuse to say a word about it.

Father Denies Engagement.

"Sid" Farrar, father of Geraldine, is emphatic in his denial of any engagement. "I guess she would confide in her dad if she had anything so important to tell," he said to a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter.

"You see there have been so many stories just like these that nobody believes them any more. I think if Geraldine were to become engaged it would take everybody a long time to believe it."

In ball field language Mr. Farrar gave the reporter a personal opinion of all this "tommy rot" about affairs of the heart. He concluded by saying:

"Scotti is not a bad fellow; he is well liked and is a good sort of a chap. But as for his engagement, well, you have heard of them before, and unless I am wrong you will find this one is nothing more than the rest of them. I don't think there is anything to it at all."

Mrs. Farrar's Statemetn.

Miss Farrar has absolutely denied that she ever made the caustic criticisms of America that have been attributed to her.

"I have never said anything deprecating the American opera-goers," the prima donna declared. "Nor did I say that American audiences cannot judge good music.

"It is true that American audiences did not treat me nicely when I returned to my own country after making a success abroad, but I am not criticising them. You can't blame me, however, for feeling a great deal of disappointment.

"I may sing at the Metropolitan this season, and I may not sing there or anywhere else in America. I don't know whether I'll ever sing in America again. Perhaps my countrymen really will want me to sing to them some time. Then I shall not refuse."

WOMEN TOLD THE WORTH OF AN EDUCATION

Professor William James, the psychologist, gave a talk on "Education" to the women gathered at the Radcliffe meeting of the Intercollegiate Association in Cambridge, and declared that the purpose of the higher education of women was to enable her to know a good man.

"A technical education," he continued, "but develops personal knowledge in its own department, besides giving ability to criticise the work of others.

"The college education, dealing as it does with the work of great men, gives women the power of judging men. A mechanic can judge a bridge, a surgeon an operation for appendicitis, a female college person should be able to judge human nature."

Miss Abby Leach, a professor in Vassar, also spoke.

A memorial scholarship to Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer of $500 was announced by her husband, Professor George H. Palmer, who spoke of her work for the association and the purpose of the scholarship in keeping up the standards of education.

TO DISCUSS JEWISH SABBATH TO-NIGHT

At Temple Ohabei Sholom tonight, Rabbi M. M. Eichler will combat the statement of Rabbi Charles Fleischer that the traditional Sabbath of the Jews has passed. Rabbi Eichler will take for his subject the words of Rabbi Fleischer, "Is the Jewish Sabbath Dead?"

TWO KILLED IN WRECK.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 8.—In a collision early to-day between a passenger train and a wrecked freight on the Lackawanna railroad, fifteen miles east of this city, Engineer W. F. Hammond was killed and Fireman H. J. Tomkins fatally injured. No passengers were hurt.

KAISER, VERY ILL, TRIES TO HIDE TRUTH

Doctors See Danger Unless Wilhelm Goes South for the Winter.

THROAT SEAT OF TROUBLE

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Kaiser Wilhelm is a much sicker man than his physicians, relatives or close political advisers will admit. News has leaked out that arrangements have been practically completed for him to spend the Winter in Southern Europe. Some plausible explanation will probably be given for this program, but the real reason is that the throat specialists who have attended him say it would be dangerous for him to remain during the cold season in the comparatively rigorous German climate.

The doctors, it now develops, are very fearful that the strain of his visit at the English court may have a bad effect on his majesty's health, and it was to efforts to cancel the engagement that so many rumors of obstacles in the way of the trip were due. England protested so vigorously every time anything of the kind was suggested, however, that the Kaiser finally made up his mind that too much attention would be attracted by a change in plan, and decided to go through with the ordeal at any cost.

The Kaiser's throat is the seat of the trouble, and the medical experts' version that the patient is suffering merely from a slight inflammation of the palate and ear ducts is regarded everywhere as far short of the truth.

The Kaiser is not disposed to follow the doctors' instructions very closely, either, but persists in using his voice more freely than the physicians deem advisable, and in standing or sitting motionless in the saddle in the open air, under circumstances which are regarded as certain to aggravate his complaint.

TAFT IS GOING TO SIBERIA

Catarrh of The Stomach

A Most Dangerous Disease, Which Causes Serious Results, Unless Properly Treated.

Catarrh of the Stomach is very common and is known as one of the most obstinate diseases, which, when neglected or improperly treated with cheap patent medicines, tonics, drugs, pills, and other secret quack remedies results in a broken down constitution and often consumption and death.

Catarrh of the Stomach, like every other disease of the stomach, except cancer, is the result of poor digestion. The digestive organs have become weak, there is a lack of gastric juice, your food is only half digested, and as a result you become effected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, heartburn, vomiting, waterbrash, tenderness at pit of stomach, slimy tongue, bad taste in the mouth, constipation, pain in limbs and face, sleeplessness, nausea, belching of gas, diarrhoea, sick headaches, dizziness, mental depression, nervous weakness, and many other common symptoms.

If your stomach cannot digest the food you eat, then the stomach needs a rest, as that is the only way you can get rid of your catarrh, but in the meantime your body needs plenty of nourishment, because you must live, and in order to live you must eat, and if you must eat, your food must be properly digested, and if your stomach is too weak to do the work, then you must get a substitute that will do the work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only known substitute that will digest your food as well as any healthy stomach. They contain vegetable and fruit essences, aseptic pepsin (gov. test), golden seal and diastase, the very elements necessary to digest all foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret remedy and for that very reason thousands of physicians all over the United States recommend them to their patients for catarrh of the stomach, dyspepsia of all kinds, and other stomach troubles. Experiments and tests have proven that one grain of the active principle contained in these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges and are sold in large fifty-cent boexs at all drug stores.

Send us your name and address and we will send you a free sample package. The relief you will get from this trial package alone will convince you of the merits of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

MILK TRUST THREATENS TO BOYCOTT FARMERS

PRODUCERS TRY TO STIFLE INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT BY REFUSING PRODUCT.

In an effort to scare the milk producers of Worcester County into abandoning their rebellion against the milk contractors of Boston, the contractors have sent a circular letter to the producers declaring that unless they sign the objectionable contracts by November 11 the men who control the Boston market will buy no more of their product.

The contractors give as a reason the falling off of the demand for milk in Boston on account of the recent rise in prices, and an alleged falling off of 4½ cents a pound in the wholesale price of butter.

Notwithstanding this reduction of demand and price, the contractors have not reduced the price of dairy supplies to the Boston consumers. This is additional evidence that the Boston market is at the absolute mercy of the contractors.

Can Keep Up Retail Prices.

The contractors, who control the Boston market, through the division of territory, ability to fix prices in unison and advantages from the railroads, are able to maintain the retail price of dairy supplies to the Boston consumer without any regard whatever to the natural laws of supply and demand. Boston consumers can expect no relief from any of the conditions, which, under normal circumstances, regulate the prices of commodities.

The Worcester county producers have paid no more attention to this threat of the contractors than they did to the first one, which was that unless the producers signed the obejectionable contracts by November 1 the price of their supply would be reduced one cent a can. They are going ahead with their plans to deliver their milk in the Boston market under their own control. The leaders in the movement say they will throw away their milk rather than yield to the demands of the Boston contractors.

Trust Agent in Worcester County.

The contractors have sent agents into Worcester County to try to break up the farmers' combination and induce them to sign contracts. The producers' leaders call attenion to the inconsistency of this move, if the Boston market is glutted, as the contractors say.

Another move of retaliation, it is claimed, has been the ruling that the milk supply of Jonas Bemis of Charlton, the spokesman for the Worcester men, is below standard. His milk, although rated higher than that of other producers whose supply is being accepted, has been rejected as not up to the standard. Mr. Bemis is to have expert tests made to prove that his milk is wrongfully rejected.

CITY PAY ROLL FOR YEAR AWAY ABOVE RECORD

Boston's city pay roll for this year promises to be a record-breaker, according to City Treasurer Charles H. Slattery's monthly report, which is issued some time to-day.

The figures compiled for the past ten months show that the pay roll drafts to November 1 amount to $10,906,970.45, which averages considerably more than $1,000,000 a month thus far this year.

That amount eclipses by large odds the pay roll draft of one year ago and by still greater odds the amount paid out two years ago while Acting Mayor Daniel A. Whelton was in office.

The pay roll drafts for the first ten months of the past three years follow:

	1905.	1906.	1907.
January	$625,088	$643,201	$649,704

Fat men, here are a few don'ts prepared for you by Elizabeth O. Hiller, cooking expert of Chicago, who believes every wife should think a thin, live husband, better than a fat, dead one:

Don't drink water, beer, milk or sweetened coffee or tea with meals.

Don't eat pie, cake or any other pastry.

Don't use butter or cream to excess.

Don't eat potatoes, rice or cereals.

Don't eat hot bread or blanc mange.

Don't eat at night.

George Harvey, editor of the North American Review has said in effect:

Want to lose a good, steady husband before he's 60 years old? Well, then, keep on feeding him on everything his appetite craves. Cook dainties, tempting viands for him. He'll get fat and die, and then you'll be sorry.

For Humane Wife Only.

Mrs. Hiller trusts the enforcement of her "how to get thin quick" schedule to those humane wives who have fat husbands, but think enough of them not to send them on the starvation route.

Mrs. Hiller says Editor Harvey is right. "Nine out of ten women," she says, "don't know how to feed fat husbands or thin husbands. They don't know anything about food values. A fat husband should be fed on fruits and such vegetables as carrots, tomatoes and asparagus. Let him have toast with butter, coffee and tea, without sugar, and broiled steak with no butter. A husband inclined to corpulency treated in this manner should last a long time."

Chicago women have eagerly welcomed Mrs. Hiller's suggestions. Now Boston women have an opportunity to test the recipe. Can you imagine Mayor Fitzgerald reaching the stage where he would be compelled to confine himself to peanut soup, or can you think of "Sunny Jim" Donovan on a diet of pickles and black coffee without sugar?

Wouldn't it be dreadful if Henry M. Whitney should find his retirement from politics so restful that he needed to eliminate the tissue making foods that are barred by Mrs. Hiller's edict?

Perchance General Bancroft, relieved of work over pink tickets and the size of the Gubernatorial vote, may find it necessary to turn more careful attention to the meal ticket and see that two meals a day are his limit.

Boston Aldermen are silent upon the subject of this recipe.

WAIVE NEW RULES TO FAVOR OLD TEACHERS

Because it was discovered that the new regulations, requiring certain certificates to make Boston teachers eligible to hold the positions of first assistants and submasters, would bar a number of teachers who were eligible under the old rules, the School Committee has voted to exempt them from the provisions of the new regulations. In a communication to the committee, the Board of Superintendents stated that the new requirements would be unfair to the older teachers and the committee took this view of the situation and provided against any injustice by voting that they continue to have the same status as before.

MANY HEADS HURT IN TECH FLAG RUSH

A free-for-all fight developed in the annual flag rush between M. I. T. sophomores and freshmen, on Tech Field, Brookline, when a crowd of fifty boys and men mixed with the 300 students who were battling for possession of the class flag. As a result of the tactics employed by the outsiders, many of the Tech students are badly used up to-day, and one of the freshmen, who hails from Somerville, is in a bad condition. He was struck in the eye by a rock and knocked unconscious, and had to be taken home in a carriage. Three or four other Tech students were knocked out by blows from fists.

The police were called on and after considerable effort they succeeded in dispersing the rowdies who attacked the students. During the melee the fence which surrounds the field was knocked down. No arrests were made.

Early to-day forty sophomores still held the flag against the freshmen. The flag was suspended on a cable between two trees, each of which was greased and encased with barbed wire. The annual field day is this afternoon. There will be a football game, relay race and tug-of-war between the two classes.

THOMAS RILEY, NOTED LAWYER AND WIT, DEAD

Thomas Riley, noted as a lawyer, politician, stump speaker and story-teller, died at his home, No. 300 Beacon street, yesterday. Mr. Riley had long enjoyed the reputation of being in all those different lines, "one of the brightest men in Boston."

He was born in County Cavan, Ireland, December, 1846. He was educated at the Boston public schools, finishing at the Quincy Grammar School. He first took up newspaper work, developing the desire for extended learning which led him ultimately to begin the study of law.

After preparation at the Harvard Law School and in the office of Benjamin F. Butler he was admitted to the Suffolk bar in 1867, being then twenty-one years old. In 1882 he was admitted to practice in the United State Supreme Court.

He was a member of the Clover Club, of which he was one of the founders and the first president, and was also prominent in the affairs of the Charitable Irish Society.

In 1897 he ran as an independent candidate for mayor against Quincy and Curtis.

SON KILLED BY FATHER'S GUN

Little Clifford McCausland, the four-year-old son of ex-Alderman Harold McCausland, of 14 Prospect street, Everett, is dead at his home, having shot himself yesterday with his father's revolver.

The boy, together with his brother and little sister, was left alone for a short time yesterday by Mrs. McCausland, who went upstairs to visit a neighbor. During her absence the little fellow climbed up to a roll-top desk used by his father and, after prying it open, secured the revolver.

The pistol was a self-cocker, and as the boy went to fire into the air the bullet in some way entered his head. He was unconscious for more than eight hours before he died.

SEND GIRL TO SHERBORN.

Complained of as a stubborn child, Martha Leett, aged seventeen, was taken into the second session of the Municipal Criminal Court and sent to Sherborn. The girl has been living by herself at No. 44 Allston street.

MEN TRAMPLE WOMEN AT FIRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Six persons were injured and 300 persons driven into a panic to the street by fire in a tenement at Rivington and Forsythe streets early to-day. The fire started in the basement of No. 32 Rivington street, in which is stored a large quantity of kindling wood and paper.

Frenzied men, in the struggle to escape from the buildings adjoining that which was ablaze, trampled over terror-stricken women and children, and the police and firemen had to drive them back with clubs and pikes before they would yield and allow the women and children to be taken to places of safety.

MINISTER DISMISSED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 8.—M. Gurko, Vice-Minister of the Interior, who was implicated in the great grain scandal during the famine relief operations of 1906, has been sentenced to dismissal from office and ordered to make restitution to the amount of over $250,000.

GIRL HYPNOTIZED INTO MARRIAGE, SHE DECLARES

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD LYNN BRIDE SAYS SHE "HAS CHANGED HER MIND."

Asserting her woman's right to change her mind, declaring that she was all but hypnotized, that she made a direful mistake, that she misrepresented her age, pretty Evelyn Condon, seventeen years of age, of Lynn, who admits that she was secretly married to Peter H. Scanlan, a prosperous young business man of Lynn, last July, is to-day taking steps to have her marriage annulled.

On the other hand, Mr. Scanlan declares that he loves his pretty little bride and if it were not for her relatives there would be no trouble, that she would live with him. He says he has consulted attorneys and that steps are being made looking to a reconciliation.

Girl Is an Orphan.

Evelyn Condon, short but symmetrical, with flashing blue eyes, dark hair and a charming complexion, is an orphan. She lives with her grandmother, Mrs. James W. Haynes, at No. 23 Washington street, Lynn. Here she has made her home ever since her mother died about a dozen years ago. She has attended the Lynn Classical High School and is noted as an accomplished pianist and a beautiful dancer.

And it was because of her grace and skill as a dancer that she met Peter H. Scanlan, who is twenty-six years of age and a man prosperous in the shoe business in Lynn. Scanlan is a rarely good dancer, too, so the man and the lass were thrown much together for more than a year past.

"Last July we went to Salem Willows together," said pretty Evelyn to a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter to-day. "We had been pretty good friends and I admit that I then thought a great deal of Mr. Scanlan and he seemed to like me.

'He told me he loved me and that he was going to London, Ontario, where he had secured a splendid position as a travelling salesman. He asked me to marry him before he left.

Yielded to His Pleas.

"I protested for a time, but he urged me so much and so ardently that finally I consented. We went to Lynn that evening, July 10, and went to the house of City Clerk Joseph M. Attwill, a justice of the peace. Here Mr. Scanlan produced a marriage license which gave my age as eighteen. I signed it. I hardly know why now unless I was almost hypnotized at the time. Then we were married.

"I went straight home and Mr. Scanlan went to his folks, who live at No. 66 Rockaway street. The next day he left for London, Ontario. What was my surprise when he came back to Lynn in about ten days. I saw him and he told me that the position there had not been all that it had been represented to him to be.

"Then he said that he was going to take his old position back, and he asked me to come to live with him, that we would go to housekeeping. I don't know what it was, but my feelings underwent a complete revolution. I refused to go to live with him.

"Our marriage was kept secret until a few days ago, when Mr. Scanlan's importunities became so persistent that I told my grandmother and relatives here. I told them that I had changed my mind and didn't want to live with Scanlan.

"Was Unduly Influenced."

"They all told me that they would stand by me and help me to obtain the annulment of the marriage. I feel that I was unduly influenced by Mr. Scanlan. I feel that he just made me say that I was eighteen.

"I know now that I made a mistake. I know I was too young then to marry and that I am now. I know that I was overinfluenced.

"I am disappointed in Mr. Scanlan and do not love him. I will never live with him. I want to be free and have my own name back again."

"Her folks have put her up to this," said Scanlan to-day to the BOSTON AMERICAN reporter. "I love the girl and I feel sure that she would live with me if her folks would but let her have her own way. I have consulted attorneys and am in hopes that things may be fixed up yet."

R. H. WHITE CO. DANCE BEST ON RECORD

The members of the R. H. White Mutual Benefit Association are convinced to-day that the annual dancing party of the association last night in Intercolonial Hall was undoubtedly the best in the history of the organization.

A large attendance and correspondingly large financial returns are part proofs of this. Then, there were any quantity of pretty girls present, a sufficient number of attentive young men to dance with the girls, and several distinguished people as invited guests. The music was all that could be desired, and every one had a delightful time, making all the conditions necessary for a satisfactory party.

The employes at the White store today may be a trifle weary from such a merry evening, but they are cheered by the thought that the association has broken its record for entertaining.

The following members of the association were in charge: Floor director, Arthur L. Fletcher; assistant floor director, Miss Alice Kernan; chief of aids, James T. Walsh; aids, John McCarthy, Frank McKee, Miss May Nickerson, Fred Andrews, Ernest Malone, Miss Leda Nickerson, Miss Alice Liston, Miss Anna Mahoney, Miss Katherine V. Clancy, Miss Adelaide Barnaby, Miss Blanche Castle, Miss Helen Lynch and Miss Gertrude McDevitt.

Among the invited guests were D. B. Strickler, superintendent of the White store; Elwyn G. Preston, treasurer; F. McCarthy and F. C. Deery, assistant superintendent, and G. B. Johnson. Among those present were Miss Mae Crowley, Miss Alice Ward, Miss Anna Horgan, Miss Elizabeth Kernan, Miss Mae Williams, Mabel Keyes, Blanche Castle, Sarah Catch, Annie Hansen, Alice Dunn, Alice Nolan, Ella Tozier, Ella Hagerty, Miss Mae McKenzie, Miss Ethel Berquist, Miss Mary McCarthy, Miss N. McCarthy, Miss F. Harrington, Ernest Malone, Peirce Malone, William Quirk, John Liston, James Liston, James Walsh, John McCarthy, Bert Mullen, George Cram, Francis Seigel, John Jordan, Frank Harrington, Frank Cartwright, Charles Kolh, John Kelley, Harry Leilin, Joseph Donovan, Charles Gunstrom, Charles Donohue and E. J. Collins.

MAY DUTTON MARRIED TO MALDEN MAN

Miss Mary Converse Dutton became the bride of Mr. Allan Perley Chase in the Hotel Somerset last evening, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. H. A. Stevenson, who united her parents in marriage. The bride's father is Harry B. Dutton of Medford, first vice-president of the Houghton & Dutton Company, and her grandfather, B. F. Dutton, was one of the founders of the great department store and is now president of the corporation. Mr. Chase is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Chase of Malden and his father is the senior member of the house of Chase, Parker & Company of Boston.

The bride is a famous golf player and horsewoman and the groom is a well-known school athlete.

Hotel Somerset was beautifully decorated for the wedding. Chrysanthemums and Autumn leaves played a large part in the color scheme. The ballroom was done in white and gold and the supper room and red parlor were trimmed with American Beauties and the pink parlor with pink flowers.

Only members of the two families were present at the ceremony, but Governor and Mrs. Guild and scores of society folk attended the reception. The bride was exquisitely gowned in a princess robe of filet and renaissance lace over liberty satin. Orange blossoms fastened her veil, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mrs. Erving P. Morse of Medford, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Louise G. Pike of Medford was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Dutton of Medford, sister of the bride; Miss Olive Spain of New York, Miss Frieda Converse and Miss Margaret Chevalier of Medford.

The best man was Francis Fessenden Chase of Malden, brother of the groom. The ushers were W. C. Chick of Boston, Foster S. Kellogg of Boston, Frederick D. Webster of Boston and Erving P. Morse of Medford.

In the receiving line with the bride and groom were the parents of both parties.

HOUSTON FIRM BUYERS HAVE MERRY DANCE

The buyers and superintendents of the James A. Houston Company have shown that they can give as good a dancing party as any other body of employes in the store. The Houston employes have given dances from time to time, and last night it was the turn of the buyers and "supers," whose hospitality opened the entertainment season of 1907-8 for the concern. P. H. Magrane, junior member of the firm, represented the house.

The large attendance resulted in the receipt of a considerable sum, which will go into the treasury of the Houston Benefit Association. The dance took place in Catholic Union Hall, Worcester square. C. H. Wells was floor marshal, assisted by Miss Helen M. Murphy and the executive committee, consisting of Chairman James T. Chase and Secretary-Treasurer E. T. Hamilton.

The aids were: Mrs. E. B. Brooks, Mrs. M. Morton, Mrs. A. C. Doherty, Miss A. E. Warwick, Miss H. M. Donovan, Miss M. M. Cass, Miss M. C. Kavanaugh, Miss W. C. Keneran, Miss E. F. Sullivan, Miss G. M. Pond, Miss Mary E. Sullivan, James Bell, R. W. Henderson, R. McGowan, S. Cutts, William Daly, J. Breen, P. B. Sharpe, Charles E. Restall, J. S. Backman, A. S. Grant, J. King, V. P. Ring, T. H. JOHNSON LAUGHS AT PRESIDENTIAL TALK

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 8.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson has waved aside the crown. He has been offered the presidential nomination by the St. Louis Democratic Club, and by Kentucky, his native State. Even if the two offers did not guarantee nomination and election, Burton's conqueror appreciated them, but waved them aside. "I've got a better job," he said with a laugh as he denied presidential ambition.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Ogden Goelet closed Ochre Court and sailed for Europe suddenly this week, in response to a cablegram she received from England announcing the serious illness of her sister, Lady Herbert, widow of the late Hon. Michael Henry Herbert, British Ambassador to Washington.

KILLED BY TROLLEY.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Nov. 8.—W. G. Gilpatrick of Lisbon Falls was killed by an electric car on a steep grade five miles from here. After an investigation the officials were convinced that he had lain down on the track to rest while walking to his home. He was about thirty years of age.

WEDDED, KEEP THEIR SECRET THREE WEEKS

Announcement of the wedding of Edith A. Courtis of Swampscott and Irving P. Johnson of Rowley, just made, although the marriage took place October 15, has given their friends in Lynn and vicinity a surprise.

Last June they met at the marriage of Miss Anna Johnson, a sister of the bridegroom, and Albert Brown, of Marblehead, and it was a case of love at first sight.

Some time ago they sounded their parents upon the question of marriage, but James Courtis, a prosperous farmer of Vivian square, father of the girl, objected because of a desire to have his daughter look after the comfort of two smaller children, Mrs. Courtis having died within a year.

After trying in vain to have the ceremony performed in Rowley and Salem, the couple went to one of the smaller towns of New Hampshire October 15.

On that day the young woman, who is but nineteen years of age, left her home ostensibly to go to the Food Fair, which was then open in Boston, but instead met her lover and was married.

Since the wedding the two have been living at their own homes. They are now ensconced in a home of their own at Rowley.

241 ON IVERNIA ARE DETAINED

With twenty per cent. of the steerage passenger list of the Cunarder Ivernia, which arrived here yesterday, held at the immigration station, that place is more crowded to-day than ever before in years. Over 241 of the total number of 1,240 who arrived here yesterday are being held by the immigration officials. Many of them are refugees from Russia who have abandoned everything that they might escape Russian cruelty. Numbers of them are from Odessa, Glina and other scenes of Jewish massacres.

ROXBURY CLUB BALL ON THANKSGIVING

The White House Club, composed of employes of the Timothy Smith Company of Roxbury, is to have its eleventh annual ball in Catholic Union Hall, Worcester square, on Thanksgiving evening. The committee is working hard to make it even more of a success than previous affairs. The committee in charge is William A. Perdix, John McFarland and Frank Guilfoyle.

"THE TURN OF THE BALANCE"

By Brand Whitlock

CHAPTER XX.—Continued

Copyright, 1907, by American-Journal-Examiner

WHEN Archie regained consciousness they sent him back to the bolt shop.

But he would not work.

The next morning Ball showed again that tenderness that appealed so strongly to the humane gentlemen on the Prison Board.

"Why, Archie!" he said. "Why, Archie!" Then he paused, rolled his cigar about and said: "String him up, boys, until he's ready to go back to work."

After the guards had fastened his hands above his head in the bull rings, closed and locked the door of the cell and left him, Archie's first thought was of Curly, who had gone through this same ordeal in another prison, and Archie found a compensation in thinking that he would have an experience to match Curly's when next they met and sat around the fire in the sand house or the fire in the edge of the woods.

And then his thoughts ran back to the day when Curly had first told him of the bull rings; and he could see Curly as he told it—his eyes glazing, his face growing grey and ugly, his teeth clenching.

Archie remembered more; somehow, vividly, he saw Curly tying a rope to the running board on top of the freight car, dangling it over the side and then letting himself down on it until he hung before the car door, the seal of which he quickly broke and unlocked; and the train running thirty miles an hour! No one else could "bust tags" this way; no one else had the nerve of Curly.

At first Archie found relief in changing his position. By raising himself on tiptoe he could ease the strain on his wrists; by hanging his weight from his wrists he could ease the strain on his feet.

He did this many times; but he found no rest in either position. The handcuffs grew tight; they cut into his wrists like knives. His hands were beginning to go to sleep; they tingled, the darting needles stung and pricked and danced about.

Then his hands seemed to have enlarged to a preposterous size and they were icy cold.

Presently he was filled with terror; he lost all sense of feeling in his arms. Rubbing his head against them he found them cold; they were no longer his arms, but the arms of some one else. They felt like the arms of a corpse.

An awful terror laid hold of him. In his insteps there was a mighty pain; his biceps ached; his neck ached, ached, ached to the bones of it; his back was breaking. The pain spread through his whole body, maddening him. With a great effort he tore and tugged and writhed, lifting one foot, then the other, then stamped.

At last he hung there numb, limp, inert. In the cell it was dark and still. No sound could reach him from the outer world.

Some time—it was evening, presumably, for time was not in that cell—they came and let him down. A guard gave him a cup of water. He held forth his hand, groping after it: and he could not tell when his hand touched it. The cup fell, jangling against his handcuffs; the water spilled, the tin cup rolled and rattled over the cement floor.

And Archie wept, wild with disappointment. The guard, who was merciful, brought another cup and held it to Archie's lips, and he drank eagerly, the water bubbling at his lips as it had once, years ago, when he was a baby and his mother held water to his lips to drink.

After his return things went better for a while, because, to his surprise, the Kid, of whom he had heard in the jail at home, was there working at the machine next to his. The Kid had been transferred to that shop because he had utterly demoralized Bolt A, where he had been working.

The little pickpocket, indeed, had been tried on all kinds of work—in the broom factory, in the cigar factory, in the foundry, everywhere, but he could not be tolerated anywhere. His presence was too diverting.

"Kid's" Career

He was taken from the broom shop because he amused himself at the expense of a country boy sent up for grand larceny, whom, as the country boy thought, he was teaching to be a prowler.

In the cigar shop he made another unsophisticated boy think that he could teach him the secret of making "cluck," or counterfeit money; and he went so far as to give him a can of soft gray earth, which the convict thought was crude silver, and some broken glass to give the metal the proper ring. The convict hid this rubbish in his cell and jealously guarded it; he was to be released in a month.

For a while the warden employed the Kid about the office, but one day he said to one of the trusties, an old life man who had been in the prison twenty years, until his mind had weakened under the confinement:

"What do you want to stay around here for? Ain't there other countries besides this?"

The old man sniggered in his silly way, then he went to the warden, and, hanging his head with a demented leer, said:

"Warden, the Kid said there's other countries besides this."

He stood, swaying like a doltish schoolboy from side to side, grinning, with his tongue lolling over his lips.

The warden summoned the Kid.

"What do you mean," he said, "putting notions in old Farlow's head?"

The Kid was surprised.

"Oh, come off," said the warden, impatiently. "You know—telling him there were other countries besides this?"

"Oh!" said the Kid with sudden illumination. "Oh, now I know what you mean!" And he laughed. "He asked me where I was from and I told him Canada. Then he wanted to know if Canada was in this country, and I told him there were other countries besides this."

"You're too smart, Willie," said the warden. "You'd better go back to the shops."

Cruel Joke

They tried all the punishments, the paddle, the battery, the water cure, the bull rings, but nothing availed to break the Kid's spirit. Then he was put on a bolt machine.

There was a convict named Dalton working near Archie and the Kid. Dalton had but one thought left in his mind, and this was that when he got out he would go to where he had concealed a kit of burglar tools.

He had been the victim of some earlier practical jokers in the penitentiary, and had had a locksmith fashion for him tools such as no burglar ever needed or used in a business in which a jimmy, a piece of broomstick and creepers are all the paraphernalia necessary. Dalton still had fourteen years to serve.

"Well, Jack, how's everything this morning?" the Kid would ask as soon as the guard went down to the other end of the shop.

Then he would grow serious, grit his teeth, clench his fist for emphasis and say: "Just wait till I get home! By God, if any one springs that kit of mine, I'll croak him!"

"Where's the plant?" the Kid would ask. "In the jungle?"

"Oh, you'll never find out!" Dalton would reply warily.

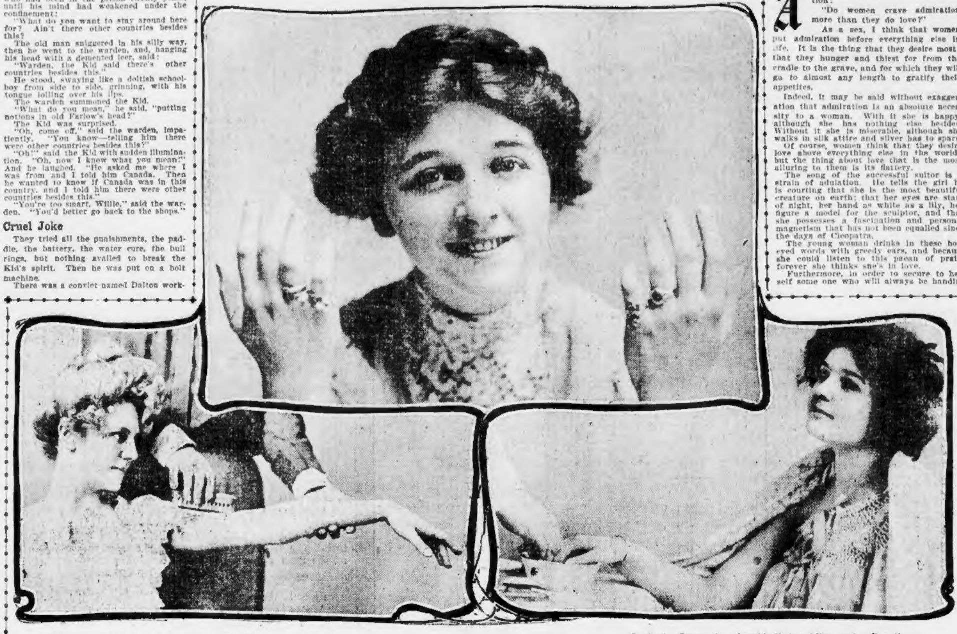
HOW TO LOOK YOUNGER THAN YOU REALLY ARE

Lesson No. II.—Every Woman Can Have Very Pretty Hands

Lifting the hands and slightly shaking the finger-tips will whiten the hands.



A flesh brush dipped in skin bleach will whiten hand and arm.

Soak the fingers in a hand-bath to whiten and soften them.

BY AUGUSTA PRESCOTT

"HANDS made beautiful here!"

This modest sign hangs outside a tiny shop opening off a side street not so very far from Fifth avenue. The owner is a young Southern girl, who came to New York less than a year ago with nothing at all. Now she is earning a good living, making hands beautiful.

"If women only realized the value of pretty hands," said she to an interviewer who went to ask about her craft, "there would be no such thing as an ugly hand in all the world.

"International marriages are brought about by good hands; friendships are formed by the hypnotism of ten pretty finger tips; loves are created and loves are broken—all through the state of the hands.

"Besides, it is very agreeable to a woman's feelings to own a pair of nice, ladylike hands, and women never were so self-conscious as now concerning the condition of their fingers and thumbs.

"To put yourself into the hands of a professional hand culturist, to have your hands made perfect, is an expensive task. The prices are high and the process long and particular.

"But it is possible for any woman, right in her own home, to so work upon her hands that they will grow lovely. She can mould and shape them; she can whiten and polish them; she can treat the nails and beautify them until, in a very little while, her fingers will be a credit to herself. Her hand will be lovely. The work takes from two to ten weeks, according to the state of the skin, but it is well worth while.

"We have many calls to treat hands by mail, and the results are particularly good.

"The trouble with hands at this time of the year is that they are red. They chap; they grow spotted; they roughen and redden, and they lose their shape. Hands that are too hot or too cold, hands that are rough and uncomfortable, hands that are wrinkled and full of veins, are sure to be unshapely. The hand should be plump, white, tapering, and finished with a set of ten pink nails, glossy and slightly tapering.

No Pointed Nails

"It used to be the style to point the nails. But now the idea is to make them just the shape of the finger tips. The business woman with her square fingers has nails shaped to suit the hand. The society woman with her tapering fingers has her nails cut to a slight taper, and the artistic woman with her pointed finger tips has her nails pointed to suit her fingers. 'Shape your nails to fit your hand,' is our advice to all customers.

"Hands that are yellow must be treated with peroxide of hydrogen. A little lanolin and peroxide will whiten the hands and arms and make them deliciously soft like cream. And there are soft home made washes that can be rubbed into the cuticle. They keep the hands young.

"The business girl who must use her hands during the day will come home and treat her fingers nightly to keep them nice. She will rub them with lemon juice; she will soak them in soft water made still softer by a pinch of oatmeal, and she will bleach them nightly with gloves lined with glove paste.

"There is a story told of a pretty girl who, through some ill-luck, lost her sweetheart. When his love had waned she flew to a beauty specialist to ask the reason. 'Why am I so unattractive?' asked she.

"'It is your hands,' replied the beauty specialist. 'Go at once to a hand culturist and have your hands repaired. They are out of condition, so that they are no longer hypnotic.'

Hypnotic Hands

"The girl went to a hand culturist to have her hands made hypnotic. Then she sent for her cooling sweetheart. When he arrived she was seated in the parlor, her hands resting in her lap. They were white as milk, with palms as pink as rose leaves. Beyond these lovely hands there were two beautifully shaped white wrists and the dearest arms.

"'How lovely your hands are!' exclaimed the caller. 'I don't think I ever saw such a perfectly beautiful pair of hands.'

"The girl smiled and said nothing. But she thanked her stars that she had added just that much to her personal charms.

"Beauty of soul is all right, but beauty of body is very attractive, and it speaks well for a girl that she is willing to make her hands nice; it shows regard for the feelings of others.

"Hands, to be kept in good condition, require five minutes each day. Once a week fully fifteen minutes should be spent upon them. The process of manicuring takes only a short time if the hands are kept in good condition.

"The trouble with most hands is that the nails are dull looking and there are great, unsightly white marks upon them. The natural nail is glossy, as in the case of a little child, and the natural color is pink.

"White marks on the nails are caused by the pressure of the orange wood stick upon the base of the nail. The white mark is really a deep scar made by pushing upon the soft tender nail before it has appeared above the flesh.

"A good manicure will begin her work by soaking the finger tips for five minutes in a bowl of water softened with a pinch of borax and a dash of powdered soap. Home made soap jelly is still better.

Make Arms White

"While the fingers are being soaked, the hand and arm can be bleached. A cut lemon is good if the arms are very yellow. But the lemon bath must be followed by a rubbing of cold cream to keep the skin from getting sore. Half a grape fruit is very good for arms that have grown freckled, and the juice of a cut lime is one of the best skin tonics known.

"The bath of the hand is important, for it keeps the hand in good color. A little scrubbing brush can be used upon the backs of the hands and on the arms if they persist in looking dark. The brush can be moistened with lemon juice and water, half and half.

The Average Woman Prizes Admiration Even More Than Love

By Dorothy Dix

A CORRESPONDENT asks this question:

"Do women crave admiration more than they do love?"

As a sex, I think that women put admiration before everything else in life. It is the thing that they desire most; that they hunger and thirst for from the cradle to the grave, and for which they will go to almost any length to gratify their appetites.

Indeed, it may be said without exaggeration that admiration is an absolute necessity to a woman. With it she is happy, although she has nothing else besides. Without it she is miserable, although she walks in silk attire and silver has to spare.

Of course, women think that they desire love above everything else in the world; but the thing about love that is the most alluring to them is its flattery.

The song of the successful suitor is a strain of adulation. He tells the girl he is courting that she is the most beautiful creature on earth; that her eyes are stars of night, her hand as white as a lily, her figure a model for the sculptor, and that she possesses a fascination and personal magnetism that has not been equalled since the days of Cleopatra.

The young woman drinks in these honeyed words with greedy ears, and because she could listen to this paean of praise forever she thinks she's in love.

Furthermore, in order to secure to herself some one who will always be handing her out the glad hand, she marries the youth who most industriously applauds her every act and word.

Another interesting sidelight on the subject, showing that it is really admiration rather than love that women crave, is to be seen in the attitude of married women toward their husbands, for it is a most curious thing that ninety-nine matrons out of a hundred base their belief in the continuance of their husbands' affection for them not on what the poor men do, but what they say.

Thus you have the strange contradiction that a woman whose husband is working himself to death to make her comfortable will consider herself a poor, neglected, unloved wife simply because the man to whom she is married has ceased to pay her compliments, while another woman, whose husband still tells her that she is beautiful and angelic, will take in boarders to support him, and suffer a black eye from him when he is drunk, and still believe that she has drawn a matrimonial prize.

A man marries a woman and takes it for granted that henceforth she will know, without more words, that he loves and admires her. But the woman isn't built that way. She pines for praise as a flower does for water.

Then comes along some glib-tongued stranger who notices what she wears and tells her how good looking she is and how clever and bright she is, and the mischief is done. She has found an affinity for whom she is ready to forsake the silent husband whose heart may be really full of the deepest and tenderest love for her.

Want Husband's Praise

Of course, not every woman's love for admiration carries her to the brink of the divorce courts. There are still, thank God, a large majority of women who can suffer and be strong; but in all life there is nothing sadder than that there are millions of wives who are starving for a little admiration, a little praise from their husbands, a little sign that the men to whom they are married still love them.

An element of grotesque humor is added to this when you reflect that these men, from whom any lovelike token couldn't be extracted with a corkscrew, really do think that their own particular Maria Janes are just about the limit of perfection in womanhood.

The final proof that women crave admiration more than love is to be found in the fact that even the women who are happily married envy women who are in the public eye.

It is a common experience to hear some woman who has a good husband and home and children regret that she married instead of following a career. Naturally there are many exceptions to this rule, but it is broadly true that no sound is so alluring to a woman as the voice of praise, and that she craves admiration more than love and estimates the depths of love by the warmth of its admiration.

WELL BRED DOGS ADMITTED

It is interesting to note that in the best hotels in the East well bred dogs are allowed, provided they have had the proper training in etiquette. Women may not go to these hotels alone, but whether the dog would make any difference has not been officially reported. There are apartments for dogs, and special attendants.

Handy Things for Housewives to Know

IF your furs have been rubbed or crushed while in their Summer quarters, the best way to freshen them is to brush with a clothes brush that has been dipped in cold water and then shaken as dry as possible. Brush the wrong way, then shake thoroughly, and dry in the open air, beating occasionally with a stick. Some kinds of fur need to be combed dry, but it must be carefully done, or the hair will be combed out in the process.

Hot, sharp vinegar will readily remove mortar and paint from window glass.

* * *

For furniture polish, mix equal parts of vinegar, turpentine and sweet oil in a bottle. Apply with flannel, and rub afterwards with an old piece of silk. This is equal to a coat of varnish.

* * *

A recipe for paste that will never dry nor turn sour is one teaspoonful of powdered alum and ten drops of clove oil, added to a pint of very smooth, thick paste.

* * *

To make a faded garment white, wash in boiling cream of tartar water, allowing a teaspoonful of the powder to a quart of water.

* * *

To prevent the tarnishing of unused silver, wrap closely after cleansing in tissue paper and keep in a closed place. Silver will stay bright with this treatment for several years.

ATTACK STORY OF HITCHCOCK'S GIRL ACCUSERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Henry J. Goldsmith, attorney for Raymond Hitchcock, announced yesterday that the first step in preparing his client's evidence would be an application for permission to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury which found the six indictments against the actor. An attempt will be made to attack the evidence of the girls who testified against Hitchcock as not worthy of belief.

Hitchcock's attorney will urge that in his attentions to these girls Hitchcock acted purely from the goodness of his heart and that he was inspired by no evil motives; that he was not guilty of the offences with which they have charged him.

The whereabouts of Hitchcock during the week that he was a fugitive from justice are still shrouded in mystery.

Hollis E. Cooley, manager for Henry W. Savage, who went on Hitchcock's bail bonds in the Police Court, has a farm in the Hoosac Mountains, about twenty miles' drive from North Adams, Mass.

Inspector McCafferty sent Detective Wilbur to investigate a clue that the actor was at North Adams. Wilbur spent two days searching in the mountains for Hitchcock just prior to the latter's return.

Martin Engel, who furnished $7,500 bail for Hitchcock after he gave himself up, was for a long time the Tammany Hall leader in the "Red Light" district. He says he went on Hitchcock's bond because he believes he is innocent and the victim of persecution. He has probably put up more bail security for persons charged with crime, women as well as men, than any other man in New York City.

WATCH YOUR TONGUE

If Furred and Coated, It Is a Warning of Trouble to Come.

When it is the morning after the night before, you do not have to look at your tongue to know that the stomach is upset, the head is aching with a dull rhythm, and that all the world looks black and dreary.

It may have been lobster Newburgh, Welsh rarebit or some other tasty dish that looked much better at night than the morning after. There is no need to look at the tongue thermometer then for symptoms of trouble. You naturally go to your box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, and with one of the little relievers bring joy and gladness to the physical system.

The real time to watch the tongue is all of the time. If it is coated with a white fur, or possibly with dark trimmings, even though the stomach does not tell you by the acute pains of indigestion that it needs help, yet the coating shows that you are getting into a bad way, and that there is need of Mi-o-na.

Used at the first symptom of a coated tongue, distress after eating, headaches, dull and lifeless feeling, flatulence, or any other of the early symptoms of indigestion, Mi-o-na will strengthen the stomach muscles so that they will take care of all the food that is eaten without the slightest pain or discomfort. It will increase the flow of gastric juice so that the food digests as Nature intended it should, extracting the nourishment and strength and expelling the waste from the system without further aid.

Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere for 50 cents, and we positively guarantee to refund your money should you purchase a box and be dissatisfied with results. Write for free sample, addressing Booth's Mi-o-na, Box 977, Buffalo, N. Y.

WHOLE WORLD OF SPORTS COVERED FOR THE BOSTON AMERICAN BY ITS CORPS OF EXPERTS

CRIMSON KICKERS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE FOR GAME WITH INDIANS

In far better shape than when they faced Brown last Saturday the Harvard football players had their last scrimmage before the Indian game with a strong scrub team, and won 10 to 5.

The varsity's work was fast and snappy, just the kind that will be needed for the speedy Redskins to-morrow.

Fastest of the Year.

It was the snappiest work seen on the field this year. Perhaps the weather had a little to do with it, and perhaps the team is beginning to come.

Newhall drove his men the whole time, and mixed up his plays so well that the second was constantly kept guessing.

His handling of punts, in spite of the hard wind which blew across the field, was faultless, as was the way he ran through a broken field. His enforced rest occasioned by his recent injury has done him a world of good.

All the tickets for the Indian game have been sold, and over 30,000 will see the contest.

Preparations have been made to handle a vast crowd, but there's sure to be a lot of delay and confusion, and it will be best for all who can to get an early start.

Previous to the Indian game Boylston street in Cambridge and North Harvard street in Brighton will be closed to all except people walking.

Automobiles can go to Soldiers Field only by way of Western avenue.

Persons coming by electric cars from any point in or through Boston are strongly advised to come and return by way of Western avenue cars, so as to avoid the congestion on the old bridge at the foot of Boylston street.

The time of the game has been changed from 2 to 2:30.

Car Schedules.

The running times on these various routes are as follows:

Leave Hanover street by way of Western avenue every minute; leave Park street subway station by way of Western avenue every minute; leave Park street subway station to Harvard square, forty cars each hour; leave Park square by way of Western avenue, forty cars each hour; leave Park square to Harvard square, thirty cars each hour.

Every possible effort will be made to have as many of the extra cars as possible go to the game by way of the Western avenue route, to relieve congestion on Huntington and Massachusetts avenues.

SKATING RACES AT BIG RINK TO-NIGHT

There will be ten racing events on to-night's racing card at Park Square rink. All the old favorites have signed. All the champion skaters will be seen in the three-mile professional handicap and the five-mile professional open. Two amateur races will be run off, a three-mile handicap and a five-mile open.

Among the professionals are Charley Williams, last Winter's favorite; Gendron, the New Hampshire champion; Holden, Barrett, McDougall, Boyle, Shinkwin, first, Merrit, Canadian champion; Acheson, mute champion, Nefsey, Brockton's flyer; Ellis, of Lynn; Fred Burke, of Waltham.

The new coliseum has perfect accommodations for nearly 5,000 spectators and a race viewed from the new grand stands is far more interesting than when seen on the old skating surface. The races start at 7:30 and continue until 10:30 in the evening.

SCHOOL GAMES TODAY.

Cambridge Latin vs. Newton High at Newton (Preparatory League).

Volkmann vs. Stone at Volkmann Field, Allston.

Dedham High vs. Wellesley High at Dedham.

Brockton vs. Rindge at Brockton.

KEENE EASILY LEADS ALL TURFMEN

Although there is one more meeting to be decided before the end of the racing season in New York, statistics for the year are interesting. As is well known, James R. Keene is far in the lead among the owners. The success of his great two-year-old Colin, the crack three-year-olds Peter Pan and Ballot, together with the winnings of Superman, Frizette and other good ones in the stable have brought his winnings up to the grand sum of $380,041.

Second on the list comes the stable of Harry Payne Whitney, but it is quite some distance from Mr. Keene, for, although he has won some good stakes with Dinna Ken, Stamina and others, his earnings total only $128,086. Others prominent on the list are the Newcastle Stable, J. L. McGinnis, nearly all of whose winnings were due to the three-year-old Frank Gill; T. Hitchcock, Jr., who owes his high position chiefly to Salvidere; R. T. Wilson Jr., C. E. Durnell, A. Belmont, J. E. Madden, Patchogue Stable and Frank Farrell.

The leading twelve owners are as follows: James R. Keene, $380,041; H. P. Whitney, $128,086; J. L. McGinnis, $68,911; Newcastle Stable, $68,833; Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., $68,790; Patchogue Stable, $54,105; R. T. Wilson, Jr., $53,870; August Belmont, $46,595; F. J. Farrell, $45,900; C. E. Durnell, $42,710; J. E. Madden, $40,400, and F. Burlew, $38,920.

NO INTERCLUB MATINEES FOR HUBHORSEMEN

"I won't play in your yard; nor will I let you play in mine," was the title to the song rendered by the Dorchester Driving Club at the last weekly meeting in response to the challenge of the Metropolitan Driving Club for a series of interclub matinees to determine the club having the fastest horseflesh, the events to be decided at the Charles River speedway and at Franklin Field.

This decision of the Dorchesters in turning down the Mets for matinees to find the acknowledged champion among the speedway clubs in Greater Boston gives to the Mets the honor without having to make any effort in securing it.

Whether from the clubhouse flagpole at the Charles River speedway will now wave a pennant inscribed with the word "Champions" in big letters has not been decided, but may be acted upon at the next meeting of the board of directors and race committee.

While it is a disappointment to local horsemen that the proposed interclub matinees cannot take place, yet it is conceded generally that nothing would have been gained over what is already practically acknowledged by the Dorchesters themselves—the Mets own the superior horses.

Just what the action of the Dorchesters will result in the future intercity matinees between that organization and the Lynns cannot be told. It would certainly be an empty honor for Lynn to defeat the Dorchesters for the championship of the two cities, and know that all the time the Mets were holders of that title in Boston.

It brings to mind, too, how the Dorchesters didn't take very kindly to the suggestion of having those intercity matinees three-cornered affairs by letting in the Mets, which was some talked by the Mets members last Spring.

INDIAN KICKERS HERE FOR BATTLE IN STADIUM WITH HARVARD ELEVEN

Confident of trimming the Harvard eleven to-morrow in the Stadium, the Carlisle Indians arrived in the Hub and are quartered at the Copley Square Hotel. With the team are the coaches and several school officials.

Although the Redskins are confident of besting the Crimson, Coach Warner says that his players are in much worse shape than they were prior to the Pennsylvania game. Houser, the famous fullback, had his back hurt again Thursday during practise.

Mount Pleasant is slightly overtrained and not in good physical condition generally. Payne and Hendricks are both said to be suffering from the effects of too severe practise and Left Tackle Wasenka has a bad limb.

The Indians received their usual send-off from their schoolmates when they departed from Carlisle yesterday.

The Indian line-up for Harvard will be: Left end, Gardner; left tackle, Wasenka; left guard, Afraid-of-a-Bear; centre, Little Boy; right guard, Aiken; right tackle, Captain Lubo; right end, Exendine; quarterback, Mount Pleasant; left halfback, Payne; right halfback, Hendricks; fullback, Houser.

Additional players making an extra eleven accompanied the team. They were: Schonchuk, Thomas, Owl, Island, Lyon, Little-Old-Man, G. Gardner, Winnie, Dietz, Bowen and J. Libby. No Indian maidens accompanied the gridiron braves to Boston this year. Captain Lubo said to-day that he could only hope for a victory and Coach Warner would not prophesy as to results.

MANY NEW HARNESS HORSE RECORDS MADE THIS YEAR

With the close of the professional racing season comes the figuring what has been accomplished in making world's records in the past five months, and it is safe in saying that the admirers of the harness horse are more than satisfied with the results.

Not only have several of the aged world's records been reduced, but never in the history of the turf has so many two and three-year-old world's trotting records been eclipsed in a single season.

General Watts set a new world's three-year-old trotting record at 2:06¾; Trampfest lowered the world's race record for two-year-olds to 2:12¼; Helen Hale set the two-year-old world's race record for fillies at 2:13¼, while Binvolo had the honor of winning the fastest three-heat race by a two-year-old in 2:13¼, 2:15¼, 2:16¼. Ruth Dillon placed the record for three-year-olds over a half-mile track at 2:15½.

George G. made the best time ever made over a two-lapped course of 2:06¾, while Sweet Marie lowered the record for mares over that kind of track to 2:07, and, also made a new record to wagon over a half mile track of 2:08½. Ed Bryan trotted five miles to wagon in 13:03, a new mark and the Boston pacer Kruger reduced the world's record to saddle to 2:12.

Following is the complete list of new world's records made this year, and the best miles of the season by trotters and pacers:

TROTTING.

2:06¾—World's record for three-year-olds in a race; General Watts, by Axworthy.

2:12¼—World's record for two-year-olds in a race; Trampfest, by The Tramp.

2:06¾—World's record, half-mile track; George G., by Homeward.

2:09¾—World's record to wagon, half-mile track, driven by amateur; Sweet Marie, driven by George Webb.

2:13¼—World's record for two-year-old filly in a race; Helen Hale.

STAR ATHLETES LEAVE PENN.

Ralph Baker, the Swarthmore College half-mile runner, who scored in the intercollegiate championships, has entered the law school of the University of Pennsylvania. Baker will help out Mike Murphy, as S. A. B. Shaw, the Pennsylvania hurdler, has left college and is now in Mexico. Shaw came from the Radnor High School and was a good quarter man in addition to his hurdling abilities. He has contracted tuberculosis. The Quakers have sustained another loss in W. R. McCullough, who won the 120-yard metropolitan hurdle championship. McCullough has notified Pennsylvania that he will not return this Fall. The losses leave but Hartranft and Milligan as the only good timber-toppers to represent the Red and Blue.

GRIF WANTS MIKE KELLEY

Clark Griffith, manager of the New York American League team, was in Chicago trying to locate either Joe or Mike Cantillon in the hope of buying the release of M. J. Kelley, the manager of the Des Moines team, which is owned by the Cantillons. Griffith wants Kelley to manage his Montreal club of the Eastern League, but was unable to make a deal, as neither of the Cantillons was in town.

YANKEE RUNNER WON.

OXFORD, Eng., Nov. 8.—L. C. Hull, of Brasenose College, a Rhodes scholar from Michigan, again has been successful in field athletics. Yesterday he won the 100-yard dash easily in 10 4-5 seconds.

MANY COACHES WORK WITH YALE TEAM

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 8.—Several more changes have been made in the Yale eleven. Congdon was reinstated at centre and Cooney went back to left guard. Goebel was laid off to rest and Foster played well as right guard. Paige was still unable to line up, although in uniform. Brown showed improvement at left tackle. Howard Jones went from right to left end, Abbott being given right end. Brides was given half-back the entire practice and he is likely to be played in that position in the Brown game Saturday.

Fourteen coaches were present, the largest number in years. They included Chief Knox, Rockwell, ex-Captain Rafferty, Hall, Butterworth, Cates, Smith Flanders, Veeder, Cochrane, Adee, Glass, Tripp and Bloomer.

After the practice Bomar gave an exhibition of dropkicking getting three field goals from the forty-five-yard line.

DARTMOUTH GETS READY FOR HARVARD

HANOVER, Nov. 8.—At a large and enthusiastic mass meeting in the commons songs and cheers were rehearsed and Drs. O'Connor, Bowler, Professor Worthen, Hon. Frank Streeter and Captain Glaze addressed the students, urging them to back the team to the limit in the coming game wih Harvard.

The coaches are keeping Ingersoll busy punting. He is developing rapidly and can be relied upon to get off some long ones at the stadium.

A short scrimmage practice followed, consisting entirely of open play. The back field and ends are developing into the whirlwind type, while the linemen are also developing satisfactorily.

To-day the team will be given light signal work in preparation for the Holy Cross game.

EXETER AND ANDOVER IN BIG BATTLE TO-MORROW

The football season of two leading members of the gridiron community will reach its climax to-morrow, when Exeter and Andover meet in their annual game. This time these tributaries to the big colleges will play at Exeter and "form" points strongly to a victory for Exeter. Last year and the year before Exeter was the favorite, just as she is this year, but Andover won each time, 28 to 0 in 1905 and 6 to 0 in 1906. Exeter has far and away the better record this fall, but the Andover lads never are beaten beforehand or by dope. Only one touchdown has been scored against Exeter, that by the Yale freshmen, and only on one other occasion was she scored on, that being a field goal by the Princeton freshmen. Time was when the big prep school elevens knocked the spots out of the freshmen teams with regularity, but since freshmen are not allowed to play on the varsity they have been drubbing the schoolboys. However, Exeter's only defeats this season have been by the Eli and Tiger youngsters.

The Yale freshmen beat Andover 18 to 0 and 10 to 2 and the Pennsylvania freshmen beat her 18 to 0. The only other team played in common by Exeter and Andover was Cushing, which was beaten 17 to 0 by Exeter and 15 to 0 by Andover. Exeter disposed of Bowdoin 22 to 0, which was a bigger score than either the Harvard varsity or Amherst team made against that college. The records of Exeter and Andover to date are as follows:

Exeter—Beat Bates, 5 to 0; beat Bowdoin, 22 to 0; beat Lowell Textile School, 34 to 0; beat Harvard second team, 11 to 0; beat Harvard freshmen, 6 to 0; beat Cushing, 17 to 0; lost to Yale freshmen, 0 to 6; lost to Princeton freshmen, 0 to 4; beat Colby, 22 to 0.

Andover—Beat Lyons A. A., 11 to 0; beat Cushing, 15 to 0; beat Brown second team, 4 to 0; beat Worcester, 12 to 0; lost to Yale freshmen 0 to 18; lost to Pennsylvania freshmen, 0 to 18; lost to Yale freshmen, 2 to 10.

The Exeter game with Harvard freshmen was really a tie, a mistaken ruling by the referee giving a touchdown to Exeter to which she was not entitled. Jim Hogan the former Yale tackle, has been coaching Exeter, while Lillard, formerly of Dartmouth, is Andover's coach.

GOOD CARD AT MARLBORO CLUB

Freddie O'Brien of Chelsea and Tommy Lawson of East Boston meet in Marlboro to-night. The boys are both in good shape and they should put up a great bout for the members of the Highland Athletic Club.

The preliminaries are very good and the fastest sort of milling should be in evidence with Jimmy Hanlon of the West End opposed to George Boles of Worcester, and Ike McLean of Hudson in a battle with Young Ryan of this city.

BLACKBURN TO FIGHT LEWIS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—After months of dickering, Jack Blackburn and Harry Lewis were to-night matched to fight at the National A. C. on November 20. Grover Hayes of Chicago had the better of Teddy Maloney at the Broadway A. C. The bout was filled with hurricane fighting from first to last. Hayes had the advantage of his opponent in height, weight and reach, which he used to excellent advantage in the early rounds. At the finish Hayes was nearly as tired as Maloney, although the latter received the greater amount of punishment.

KIRKLAND WILL MEET CORNELL

DONOHUE NOT AFTER MEMSIC

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—The match between George Memsic and Young Donohue of Boston, which seemed so sure a few days ago, Donohue having requested transportation from the East, seems now to be in the dim future, if it will come off at all.

A telegram from Eddie Keevin was received here to-day in which he says Young Donohue wishes to call off all negotiations, giving no other explanation than that he "Does not want any of Memsic's game" at present.

Notes of the Diamond

Clark Griffith is out with a boost for Joe Lake. His pitching capture from Jersey City. "He'll be another Mathewson inside of a year," murmurs C. G.

The Coast leaguers had a field day recently. Mott, Portland's third baseman, won the long distance throwing contest with a chuck of 330 feet 10 inches.

Treasurer Medicus, of the Superbas, who is in the furniture business, gives his best batter each season a fine Morris chair. Tim Jordan gets it. Harry Lumley, who received the chair last year only slapped .267 this season.

Charlie Jones, the Washington outfielder, has announced his retirement from baseball. He will remain in Colorado next year in business.

Cliff Blankenship, of the Senators, returned to California without taking in the world's series en route, as he had intended, owing to the illness of his wife.

Many big league managers wished they had signed Joe Delehanty, of last season's champion Williamsport team. McCloskey, of the far-off Cardinals, beat Mack and Murray to the man.

Wagner led the National League in two-base hits, while Ganzel and Alperman made the most triples. Brain had the most home runs to his credit.

Bergen, the Brooklyn catcher, is the poorest run-getter in the business. He played in 51 games, and made only two trips to the plate.

Beaumont, of Boston, made more base hits than Wagner. He led the league in this respect.

President Herrmann, of Cincinnati, positively declines to permit Willie Keeler to play on his team. Don't trouble yourself, Garry, there is not one chance in a million of the American League letting Keeler get out of its jurisdiction should the Highlanders release him.

Western critics who must kow-tow to Charley Comiskey have removed Ban Johnson from the American League presidency without even drawing out the sentiment of Messrs. Shibe, Farrell, Taylor, Yawkey, Sommers and one or two others, who might be persuaded to show some interest on the subject.

Far be it from us to meddle in other persons' affairs, but Cincinnati is grappling about aimlessly in search of a manager when it let a minor league team take Monte Cross, a well-poised, intelligent veteran who is worth more sitting on the bench than the whole Red team put together. And Herrmann is considering Ganzel, Huggins, Gleason and Silk O'Loughlin for the place!

Notes of the Boxers.

[illegible] O'Brien may match up with Walter Little of Chicago at Dayton, O., on December 6. The bout will be twenty rounds.

Young Corbett and Terry McGovern are playing to "Standing Room Only" in Brooklyn this week. The Star Theatre is packed nightly and the two ex-champs make a great hit. Joe Humphreys tears off a spell before the boxing skit that would make a circus shouter look like a deaf and dumb person. They play another week in Brooklyn and then the trio will go on the road. Humphreys will sell a few bricks while enroute. Money is tight, but leave it to Joe to talk it loose again.

Joe Gans, who with Adam Ryan, is showing at the Star Theatre in Milwaukee this week, says he will appear at the Trocadero Theatre in Chicago next week. Though Gans says he has retired he intimates that he will come back as soon as a good man and a good purse bobs up.

Frank Carroll, who claims to be welterweight champion of Canada now is on his way to Chicago and upon his arrival will be prepared to match up with any of the welterweights at from 138 to 142 pounds. Carroll was a well-known colored boxer. He has traveled from Quebec to the City of Mexico and has been doing well.

George Siler, James J. Corbett, Tom McCarey and some other fistic authorities have informally decided that these ten men are the greatest fighters that the prize ring has developed in this country: James J. Jeffries, Peter Jackson, Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jack Dempsey, Joe Gans, Joe Walcott, George Dixon, Young Mitchell and George Lavigne. John L. Sullivan, Tommy Burns, Kid McCoy, Terry McGovern and Young Corbett were not given a place in the roll because they were considered mere sluggers.

The Cuban Compromise.

In the island of Cuba the warring forces, after a fierce struggle for supremacy, will, judging from the present outlook, effect a compromise, whereupon peace will follow and affairs will again be regulated. When some serious ailment has invaded the human system no compromising is possible. If the evil is not entirely eradicated a permanent cure cannot be effected. Those suffering with rheumatism, catarrh, indigestion, neuralgia, nervous affection, female troubles, dyspepsia, etc., are seriously advised to take Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound, which steals a march upon the enemy and completely routs him, substituting for painful affliction robust health. The veins are freed of their sluggish contents, and fresh, rich, pure blood circulates throughout the body, creating health and renewed vitality. Thirty days' treatment, 25c. All druggists.

JENNINGS TIED TO THE TIGERS

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 8.—Hughey Jennings is in hard luck. Hughey has all kinds of chances to butt in on real good jobs in both the National and American League as manager, but he can't accept. Hughey is tied up to a two-year contract in Detroit and the gossips say he gets only $3,500 a season for his services.

It is understood that Jennings could get $10,000 a year at Cincinnati and could have the job in a minute if he could tear himself away from Detroit. But they have him tied up there, and while Yawkey will probably raise Hughey's salary anyway, the manager won't get anything like he could in several other major cities.

RECORD ENTRY LIST.

The Boston Terrier Club has a record entry for the specialty show which will be held in the Mechanics Building November 13 to 16. There are twenty-eight classes on the program. The judging will be in the hands of W. Green, with T. Benson as the alternate judge. The judging takes place on the opening day from 10:30 a. m. to 1 p. m., 2 p. m. to 5, and 8 to 10.

CUTLER IS CHAMP.

Albert G. Cutler won the New England cushion carom championship again by defeating Jimmy Ryan in the final game of the tournament at the Hub Billiard Palace by the score of 50 to 44. Laurie, Rogers and Manuel are tied for third place. In the balk-line tournament Oman defeated Holmes, 200 to 133. Parker and Klucken will play tonight.

THIS IS TECH FIELD DAY.

The annual field day sports of M. I. T. will be contested on Technology Field, Brookline, this afternoon. The contestants will be the freshman and sophomore classes of the institute, and there will be a football game, a relay race and a tug of war. The sports will begin at 2:15 p. m.

HUGGERS NOT BOXERS.

DERBY, Conn., Nov. 8.—As huggers Fred Lucas, of New York, and Jack Robinson, of Chicago, gave a fine exhibition in the Armory, but as far as boxing was concerned their exhibition was rank. For six rounds the crowd jeered and hissed the men to no purpose.

CROSS-COUNTRY RUN.

The annual consolation cross-country run at Harvard will take place over the regular five-mile course this afternoon at 3 o'clock for those men who did not make the 'varsity cross-country team.

LUSITANIA AGAIN BREAKS ALL RECORDS

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The giant Lusitania, with $10,000,000 in gold for New York banks, arrived off Sandy Hook at 1:24 a. m. to-day, where she remained until daybreak. She beat her former record by fifty-eight minutes and made the passage in four days eighteen hours and forty minutes.

Tthe Lusitania was two hours ahead of her own record early yesterday. Wireless dispatches told that the officers and crew were hopeful of reducing the time by two and one-half hours, but the storm which swept across Montauk Point struck the Lusitania squarely and hampered her in her final dash to the winning line. The seas struck the liner almost broadside, and at one time threatened to bring her in behind the time for both her previous trips. But the storm blew itself out almost as quickly as it arose, and the last few miles of the trip were made in comparatively smooth water.

The day's run gave a striking illustration of the splendid performance of the Lusitania. In the twenty-four hours ending at noon on Monday she reeled off 606 knots; the total for Tuesday was 616 knots; Wednesday 618 knots and yesterday 610 knots. Thus for four days in succession, the Lusitania topped the best twenty-four hour world's record of the Deutschland, made in July, 1901.

The Lusitania has clinched her title to all records. She has beaten the Deutschland for a single day's run and outdistanced the Kaiser Wilhelm II. for the best average speed for a single voyage. The Lusitania on this voyage, however, fell one knot short of the 619 knot record in the second day of her second voyage.

HEIRESS KEPT BEHIND BARS

STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 8.—Charging that she is being kept under illegal restraint and confinement, Miss Giles Mabel McClenahan, daughter of William McClenahan, late of New Canaan, has secured a writ of habeas corpus from Superior Court Judge Roorback, directing Dr. Clarence H. Scoville, her conservator, to produce her in the Superior Court here to-day. Mrs. T. V. Elliott, a cousin of Miss McClenahan, got out the writ in the name of Miss McClenahan. Among other things she avers that Dr. Scoville is keeping his ward behind iron bars.

Dr. Scoville was appointed conservator of Miss McClenahan's estate in June, 1906, shortly after the death of her father. At that time she was declared incapable of managing her estate.

Roxbury Storage Salesrooms
Wise Piano Buyer

Don't hover around the high-priced piano district—like the moth around the flame. You'll surely get burned if you do.

The gilded piano stores, with their costly appointments, their high-salaried sales agents, their sellers' commissions, etc., are no place for the ecomonical piano buyer. Come up where the rents are not so high, where there are no agents' commissions for you to pay, and where there are no iron-clad piano trust agreements in force to make you pay a big, unfair price. Come up to the Roxbury Storage Salesrooms, where we scalp the piano trust every day. Every day is bargain day up here.

MAKE YOUR HABITS YOUR EMPLOYES

And There Will Be No Danger of Their Ruling Your Life

Most of the men and women you know spend much time they might better employ, complaining about bad habits—their own and those of their friends.

So great a part does habit play in every human being's life that the expression "the force of habit" has come to be the explanation of everything they do.

The bad habits, especially the VICIOUS HABITS, of men speedily bring about their downfall and ruin. Beginning slowly, they increase their influence over the man WHO THINKS HE CONTROLS THEM, until finally drink or indolence, or gambling, takes entire charge, and the sombre undertaker, performing his grim duty, acknowledges his gratitude to them for more business than he ought to have.

Of course, bad habits are easily acquired, even though they seem unpleasant at first, like Pope's monster of hideous mien, which is first endured, then pitied, then embraced.

But if the young man who foolishly allows BAD HABITS to step into his mental headquarters and take a seat at the boss's desk would devote a few hours every day to the cultivation of GOOD HABITS he could soon get rid of his new master.

Few men have succeeded in the world who have not given careful attention to the establishment of habits—habits that are useful and important.

Every specialist, whether he is a bricklayer or a violin virtuoso, MUST establish certain ways of doing things in his mind so that they become what is called second nature.

In the brain is stored up a stock of knowledge about that special duty, which can be drawn on whenever it is needed, like money deposited in a sound savings bank.

Besides, the knowledge, the telegraph system between the brain and the hand is improved and developed.

The brain learns to send messages quickly and accurately, without any groping around for the right words.

The hands learn instant obedience.

Then the habit is formed, and whether there are bricks to be picked up and bedded in cement or fingers to dance over the fiddlestrings the work goes on without exhausting concentration of attention.

You have often marvelled at the wonderful speed attained by certain sorts of workers, like the expert typewriter or the man in the restaurant who cuts bread at the counter.

Habit, painfully and slowly formed, does that work for them. They think very little about the mechanical part of their duties.

In the same way the habits that make men successful can be acquired.

If you dislike to read, you can by forcing yourself to read a certain number of good books a day form the habit of reading, and it will soon become so strong that nothing short of setting fire to the house can drive you away from your book in the hour you have set apart to spend with it.

The habit of indolence, so common and destructive, can by hard work be replaced by the habit of industry.

The man who once hated effort of any kind can be transformed into an alert, active person, whose restless energy inspires others around him to work as hard as he does.

Every man who works as a unit in a great business has to learn habits of system to hold his job. Slovenliness must be replaced by method, carelessness in writing or figuring by extreme care, and inattention by concentration during working hours.

By studying successful men and emulating their good habits you can learn to form those habits for yourself.

But even if you have no opportunity to study such men, your own good sense will tell you the habits you should acquire and those you should let alone.

Thrift, industry, CONCENTRATION AND DETERMINATION are all habits that you need.

These you can master and make your employes.

They will come when you want them and do the work you want them to, and so wonderfully is the human brain arranged that much of that work will be performed almost automatically.

And as long as your mind is occupied with these valuable employes the malign habits which you never can learn to control will keep out.

In a mind where industry is there is no room for idleness, where thrift is on watch gambling and drinking can find no place, and where system and method are employed there can be no negligence or slovenliness.

You will find, too, that unhappiness and envy and malice are all habits which have grown up like weeds while you neglected the cultivation of better ones.

You cannot form a good habit in a day, as you can a bad one; but you can form in a year or two enough to serve you through life, and to serve you so well that you never will regret the labor you spent on their cultivation.

Bobbie's Essays

HALLBOYS

Bobbie, my teecher sed, what was the last thing you saw this morning when you left yure hoam?

The last thing I saw was a swell lady, I sed, with puffs in her hair & a poodle dog on a chain, taking the dog out to git the butiful air in Franklin Park, I sed.

Bobbie, sed my teecher, that is no way to talk about a lady, to mention her puffs, my teecher sed. A grate many of us ladies wares puffs, my teecher sed, wich maiks us fair to behold, as Mister Burns sed:

Pleasures is like ladies fair—
You sieze the hair,
The puff is thare!

Don't talk about ladies, Bobbie, sed my teecher, & doant rite about them either, my teecher sed.

What was the next to the last thing you saw? asked my teecher. It was a hallboy, I sed, so I will rite a essay about the hallboys.

Hallboys is the yung men wich stands in the hall & runs the elevator in the flats of our grate city. Thay are moastly short & dark colored, with uniforms on them wich has pritty buttons.

Hallboys is not vary eesy to git along with, thay forgit that thay are servants, & like the janitor thay meet every form of tennant the broad teritory of the flat can furnish & never lower thare hands from a tip.

Our hallboys nam is Percy, he is vary black & knows it. When Mister Johnson, wich is a prizefiter, licked a white man named Mister Flynn, Percy saw me the next morning in the hall & he says, Well, Littel Bobbie, I see yur white frnd Mister Flynn got his trimmings last nite good & plenty. No friend of mine, I sed, I doant know any prizefiters except Philadelfia Jack O'Brien. He doant git no trimmings, I sed to Percy, he is too wise.

Neverthe-less, Percy sed, Mister Johnson met Mister Flynn & showed the superiority of the colored man in the roped arena, Percy sed. Also look at Joe Gans, Percy sed, wich has started a hotel in Baltimore on the munny he made licking white men like yure father, Percy sed. If yure dad dosent give me a tip tonite I will lick him, sed Percy. Think of Johnson & Gans & what thay did to the white fiters.

Yes, I sed to Percy, but think what Simon Legree did to Uncle Tom. Then he shut up & thats all I know about hallboys.

THE PEOPLE ARE AWAKE

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

A great triumph for the BOSTON AMERICAN and the principles it stood for. The election of John B. Moran is a victory of the people. The people are sick and tired of these so-called Democrats, whose only interest in politics is to satisfy their ambition and their pockets—grafters, who work hand in hand, not in the interest of the people, but to make all they can. Such men are worse than nothing and should be relegated out of office, the sooner the better. The people are awake, and let those who misrepresent beware.

HIS CHIVALRY GETS HIM IN TROUBLE AGAIN

The Diary of a Man

(In a World of Dogs)

By Wex Jones

"This one will make a fine pet for your puppies," barked the owner of the farm, picking me up by the back of the neck and showing me to a large St. Bernard. "He's healthy and cheap at fifty bones."

"Hmf!" growled the St. Bernard. "Well, I'll take him—the puppies need something to play with."

"Here!" barked the owner when the customer went out. When I ran over, thinking to get a piece of candy, he held me down on a table while his assistant cut my ears off, leaving just a tiny little pointed piece on each side.

"Now," he barked, "you look something like a man," and he chucked me into the corner, where I stayed all night trying to forget the pain.

* * *

It wouldn't have been so bad at the St. Bernards' only for the puppies. They seemed to think a man had no feelings and one would pull me by the leg and another by the arm until I nearly fell to pieces. The food was fine, however, and I got along without any rows until one day Flossie, the youngest St. Bernard, pulled me so hard by the hair that I gave her a little slap in the heat of temper. She squealed loudly and old St. Bernard rushed out and beat me so I couldn't move my left leg.

"Chuck him out!" barked St. Bernard.

* * *

I was nearly dead of cold and hunger wandering around the streets, dodging police dogs and vicious puppies, until one day a tattered little cur found me and gave me half the bone he'd just found. He was a true friend, that little cur, and I never went any hungrier than he did. But one day the Sherry Society took him off, and of course I couldn't go with him.

Life was pretty hard after that. One day I remember I was running along to get away from some dogs with a tin can they were going to tie to me, when some one barked "Mad man!"

Dogs rushed out and dragged their puppies out of my way. Hundreds followed me with guns, clubs, anything to kill me. When I hid around a corner I was too weak to stand.

* * *

I was more glad than otherwise when the mancatcher came along and put me in his wagon. "At any rate," I thought, "I'll get something to eat in the pound."

But we didn't go to the pound. He took me to a big medical school. Here they put me on a table, all strapped down so I couldn't kick or scratch.

"Vivisection," barked the principal dog, "is the greatest aid medical science can have. By taking out this man's eyes and tongue and destroying his senses of touch and smell and placing food near him we will learn whether or not he can find it. The lesson will probably in time be made useful in treating the canine body, although this doesn't matter, as the experiment is sufficiently interesting in itself."

* * *

When I reeled about wondering where a window might be that I might fall to a quicker death I heard the professor bark: "How very interesting; almost looks as if the lower animals sometimes commit deliberate suicide."

All Success to Opera at the Castle Square!

By Charles Fleischer

It was like rising into a finer ether to step out of the paths of hustle on the afternoon of Boston's late battle of ballots into the spacious Castle Square Theatre.

They were singing "Lohengrin," perhaps the delightfulest and most tuneful of Richard Wagner's operas.

A very ambitious undertaking, both in itself and because it challenged comparison with other performances which Boston had heard and seen. Inevitably there rose memories of the De Reszkes, Eames, Nordica and Schumann-Heink.

But comparisons are—dangerous and, in this case, quite needless. The bold enterprise of the Castle Square management in giving this difficult grand opera, if it is to be judged at all, must be estimated absolutely and not relatively. It ought to disarm criticism.

At least the critics should be neither captious nor patronizing.

I have been privileged to enjoy many a magnificent presentation of "Lohengrin," and I have seen and heard, as under a spell, the handsome, golden-throated Jean de Reszke, the perfect embodiment, in appearance, manner and voice, of Elsa's mysterious, almost other-worldly champion.

But I was not disposed to institute comparisons last Tuesday afternoon as I listened and looked, one of a thousand or more delighted auditors and spectators, at this latest effort to present to ear and eye the most tuneful of the German master's achievements.

What I felt, during the moments when my soul was not entranced by "music and music's thoughts," was gratitude, deep thankfulness for myself and the hosts of others who were privileged to spend those hours on the heights.

My appreciation went over the footlights to the singers who were trying so sincerely to reproduce the inspirations of the genius who had created the opera and, beyond the scenes, to the manager and to the owners whose courage and devotion fathered and fostered the undertaking.

Of course, I do not delude myself into believing that either the management or the artists are in this enterprise "for their health," or even that they are unselfish purveyors of entertainment to the public.

But I like best the six per cent. philanthropy, the kind that "pays." This kind is, like the quality of mercy, twice blessed.

Therefore, I hope that opera at the Castle Square is the material success which it deserves to be. To my mind, this would increase the social worth of an enterprise which so generously gives great joy to the people at so small a cost.

Think what it means to thousands of toilers, whose souls not only are not dead to music, but hungry for and sensitive to this surest of inspirers, to have the profitable pleasure of acquaintance with an opera like "Lohengrin" at a cost of from 15 to 50 cents!

Think what it counts for Boston to have this finest means of culture within the reach of all!

The soul that's dead to music, the deathless poet tells us, and is not moved by concord of sweet sounds, is fit for treason, stratagem and spoils. I quote from memory, but I know that I give the idea, if not the exact words of the bard, be he Shakespeare or Bacon.

Conversely, they who cater with such dignity and honesty to our growing love of music, they who bring us and hold us under the sway of melody divine, as do the managers and artists of the Castle Square with their meritorious production of "Lohengrin," are—whether or not that is their purpose, secret or avowed—genuine benefactors of the public.

All success to opera at the Castle Square! It is a feast for the gods—who are the people.

They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

TELLS HOW TO TRANSLATE MORAN'S VICTORY

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Congratulations on Moran's victory! Now translate it into a Fitzgerald defeat.

CHARLES FLEISCHER,
Rabbi Temple Adath Israel.

LET THE GOOD WORK GO ON

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Let me congratulate you on the splendid victory which you have achieved for the common people in re-electing Citizen John B. Moran District Attorney of Suffolk County in spite of the strong and costly opposition of two organized political machines, aided by the combined influence of all the newspapers in the county.

I also wish to say that the enormous vote polled by Thomas L. Hisgen proves conclusively that the influence of the BOSTON AMERICAN throughout this Commonwealth is far greater than the combined influence of all the other newspapers in the State. Let the good work go on till in that way the Federal Government can be eventually redeemed from the control of corrupt political machines and put into the hands of the people.
